Final Bulletins

EMPIRE VOTE IN S. AFRICA

CAPETOWN (CP)—The South African House of Assembly tonight passed on second reading by a vote of 79 to 59 the war measures bill supporting the Empire's war effort after a record nonstop debate which had lasted 28 hours 48 minutes.

The previous record sitting, which followed industrial disturbances in 1914, was 22 minutes shorter.

Bomber Damaged

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced three Spitfire fighters of the Royal Air Force made "effective hits" on a German Heinkel bomber at the mouth of the Thames River, despite fading light this evening in a 14,000-foot dive attack.

Blizzard in Balkans

BUDAPEST (AP)—Fifty persons in Hungary alone were reported this evening to have been killed by a blizzard raging across southeastern Europe. The principal trans-European trains traversing the Balkans were halted and distress signals came from shipping in the Aegean and Mediterranean seas.

Ship Upside Down

LONDON (CP)—A large, unidentified steamship foundered off the Norfolk coast and was floating bottom up tonight.

A lifesaving craft which had been at sea six hours found two of the ship's lifeboats and picked up a number of survivors from them.

Raid Broken Up

PARIS (AP)—Tonight's French communiqué told of the smashing of a German raid. It said:

"East of the Moselle an enemy raid preceded by trench mortar and artillery fire failed completely.

"Infantry and artillery fire on the Rhine.

"Aviation activity during the middle of the day."

British Fliers Saved

LONDON (AP)—A Copenhagen broadcast this evening said that four British airmen, adrift on a rubber float in the North Sea had been picked up by a Danish vessel and transferred to a British warship.

Diphtheria Death

EDMONTON (CP)—Death of a seven-year-old Edmonton schoolgirl from diphtheria and four other cases of the disease among schoolchildren were reported this afternoon by Dr. G. M. Little, city medical health officer. All cases were found in a grade one classroom.

Blood Donating Inquiries Made

Inquiries are being made by officials of the Victoria branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, to ascertain if the local group will be invited to share in the campaign announced by the Toronto branch last month for blood donations to be shipped to France for use for wounded soldiers in hospitals.

The Toronto Red Cross Society called for 1,200 men volunteers between the ages of 21 and 30 years to donate a cup of blood each once in every eight weeks for surgical use on the western front.

Dr. Norman Bethune who recently died in China serving as a medical missionary, perfected a technique for storing blood for transfusions when he was with government forces in France.

Lieutenant-Colonel R. S. Worsey, M.C., honorary secretary of the Victoria branch of the society, said today that communication will be made with G. C. Darby, Vancouver, president of the British Columbia division of the Red Cross and a member of the national executive who is now in Toronto conferring with the national commissioner of the society, Dr. Frederick W. Routley, in inquiry as to blood donating for overseas work.

"I think it is an excellent thing," Lieutenant-Colonel Worsey said, "and I'm sure that if such a campaign were started here we would have a ready response. We are anxious to serve in any way."

Labor Peer Tells of War Technique

Hitler Attack Will Win War for Allies

If Hitler is forced into an attack the war may be over soon. If not, and there are no marked changes in the present positions, the war may go on for a very long time.

This is the summing-up of Dudley Leigh Aman, first baron of Marley and deputy speaker of the House of Lords.

In Victoria today to address the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, Lord Marley gave, in concise language, a conception of the new type of warfare in which the Allies are engaged.

"The conduct of this war is based on the general plan worked out by the French general staff. It works on the theory that defence is very much stronger than offence," he said.

"So, broadly speaking, we are on the defence on all fronts.

"The main hope now is that Herr Hitler and the Germans will attack. If they do they are defeated.

"We believe that to be as great a certainty as anything is in war-time. We can then count on a fairly quick end to the war.

"It is doubtful that he will, but he may be compelled to attack by internal conditions.

"If he does not, then we enter an entirely new phase of the war—the complete organization of the new economic warfare.

"Last war the economic blockade was simplified because we controlled all Germany's frontiers. This war we control only a small percentage.

POLICY TO NEUTRALS

"What then becomes important? First our influence over the neutrals bordering Germany, second our dealings with these neutrals.

"In this respect we begin very favorably. None of the neutrals want Germany to win. None of the neutrals possess in large quantities the majority of materials vital to Germany, such as rubber, tin, nickel, tungsten and manganese.

"The difficulty is that Germany can get a certain amount of these things through neutrals, or from them.

"That has brought about the new technique. Where we cannot stop physically the materials going to Germany we can buy them from the neutrals, even though we do not want them ourselves.

"This technique is being developed, slowly but surely. It involves so many factors.

"For instance, shipping space. We may have to use ships to carry things we don't need to avoid them getting into Germany.

"We have to expand our export trade to set up the credits that will enable us to buy the goods. And this means balancing our industrial production to take care of increased manufacture for export as well as production of war materials.

"We have to organize our shipping to get the supplies for export manufacturing as well as our war supplies.

"The government has started this slowly and the Labor opposition, by constructive criticism has forced it into an effective position."

Lord Marley was met here by Hon. N. W. Whittaker, K.C., Speaker of the Legislature, and taken to Government House where he is a guest. During the morning he called on members of the provincial government.

Lord Marley recalled that he was fulfilling a speaking engagement in the United States contracted for two years ago. His subject was to have been "The Danger of War in Europe." It has been changed to "Europe in 1940."

He has made 23 speeches in 25 days in Canada and will leave tomorrow for four weeks in the U.S. He will sail from Montreal for the Old Country and plans to visit the Maginot Line, inspect naval defences and troops before returning for another series of addresses.

"There is a considerable amount of German propaganda in the United States and I think it well the British point of view should be presented," he said.

Continuing his analysis of the new type of warfare Lord Marley explained how in a mechanized war, as contrasted to a war of manpower, training of every fighting man is much more technical and takes longer.

He illustrated the case of a submarine crew in which, for the sake just of the spirit of a crew, every man must know his job to the last detail.

"And that may be a spot for Germany right now that is giving Hitler a headache," he added. "She may build the submarines but are her crews efficient?"

Lord Marley said there were many imponderables which would determine how long the war would last but again it appeared to be a question of whether or not Hitler attacked.

A break through the neutrals appeared to be his logical course. The highly mobile British force was prepared to meet a flank attack on the Maginot Line. Meanwhile the line was being rapidly extended on both flanks.

Reverting to the Allied influence on neutrals he explained how a neutral could not definitely refuse Germany supplies without endangering its neutrality, it was surprising the number of inconveniences and delays that could arise in delivering them when a neutral country was sympathetic to the Allies.

LABOR AND RUSSIA

Asked about the Labor Party's attitude to Russia, he said they had always been extremely critical and suspicious of Russia. They had probably gone too far in their bitter outburst at Russia after Stalin's pact with Hitler and his invasion of Finland.

"The British government is wisely not being rushed into any action against Russia. The main effect of the Russian-German pact has been on the whole favorable to the Allies," Lord Marley said.

"Germany is supporting Finland. That is quite natural, because the only objective of the Russian attack on Finland was to prevent Finland being used by Germany as a base for an attack on Leningrad.

"The only enemy Russia really fears is Germany. Hitler has made it plain he is ready to retrace his steps and attack Russia when he is finished in the west.

"Russia knows the Allies will win, but wants to keep Germany in the fight long enough so that she will be completely weakened at the finish."

Lord Marley said the British Labor Party was in full support of the objectives of the war in so far as they are to save the people of Europe from the consequences and recurring fear of German aggression. The reason it had not gone into the government is because it feels that constructive criticism from the outside would serve to keep the war conducted on the most efficient lines.

"This, incidentally, is an illustration of the working of democracy in wartime," he said. "There has been some talk in the United States about the British government losing sight of democracy. But our parliamentary debates and frank, open talk demonstrate how the democratic spirit can flourish even in wartime."

B.C. Lumber Going By Rail Across Canada to U.K.

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia timber interests and the Canadian railways have reached an agreement on special freight rates for transport of British Columbia timber across Canada to Atlantic ports.

Announcing the agreement today, Wendell Farris of Vancouver, representative of the British Timber Control Board and British Columbia timber interests, said details would not be announced until later.

The British Timber Control Board has purchased some 400,000 board feet of British Columbia timber and decided to move it across Canada by rail, owing to difficulty in obtaining vessels for transport via the Panama Canal.

Mr. Farris said railway representatives would confer here tomorrow on final arrangements.

The dispute between the railways and the timber interests came before the Canadian Board of Transport Commissioners here last week, but the hearing terminated abruptly when both sides agreed to further private negotiations.

The timber interests had urged continuation of special summer freight rate of 60 cents per 100 pounds for timber and 85 cents for lumber, but the railways had insisted on the general rate of 85 cents per 100 pounds regardless of whether it was timber or lumber.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Announcement of an agreement between British Columbia timber interests and the Canadian railways on transcontinental freight rates was welcomed today by local lumbermen.

Spokesmen for the industry generally reckoned the volume of lumber railroad east for shipment to the United Kingdom will not at first exceed 20,000,000 feet monthly and possibly will be not more than 10,000,000.

Rafts for Lumber Possible Solution

British Columbia's problem of getting lumber to the United Kingdom might be solved by towing big rafts of lumber with ocean-going tugs, Lord Marley, British Labor peer, suggested in an interview today.

Shipping lumber from here via the Panama Canal meant a ship coming back in ballast, he noted. With ship space at a premium this would be waste.

Lumber might be moved by ocean rafts, he said, or British Columbia might establish industries that would require the import of materials for processing. This would provide the cargo for the return journey of lumber ships.

Cold in Holland

AMSTERDAM (AP)—The lowest temperatures ever recorded in the Netherlands were reported today by the royal meteorological station, with 11.2 degrees below zero at the air-drome of Eelde, in the northeast, and a country-wide average of 1.4 below zero.

'Gone With the Wind' Again in Georgia

First Australian Troop Contingent Reaches Palestine

JERUSALEM (CP)—Australian troops began arriving in Palestine today.

An estimated 30,000 Australian and New Zealand troops arrived at Suez yesterday after a 10,000-mile journey from the Antipodes.

The first contingent of Australians reached a Palestine camp after a five-hour train journey.

Long lines of gray buses, winding through the green hills and orange groves, carried the men from a small country station to their new encampment which had been prepared by a Scottish regiment stationed in Palestine.

AT OLD CITY

KANTARA, Egypt (CP-Reuters)—Units of the Second Australian Imperial Force made camp at this ancient caravan trail city today, ready to take over possible wartime assignments in the Middle East.

Dominions Secretary Anthony Eden is expected here Thursday on an inspection tour. Active preparations indicated he will find everything ready.

Songs the Anzacs made famous during the last war echoed across the desert as the leading Australian transport crept through the darkness last night to anchor here. Then came the tramp of boots as the men, each carrying a small white duffel bag, were disembarked.

See British press comments on Anzacs in Middle East on Page 3.

Eden to Visit Turkey

ISTANBUL (AP)—Anthony Eden, British Secretary for the Dominions, may visit Ankara, Turkey's capital, before returning to London from Egypt, informed sources said tonight.

Mr. Eden flew to Suez this week to welcome the Australia-New Zealand contingent on its arrival to swell the Allied Near-Eastern forces.

Half Holiday For B.C. Schools

Schoolchildren and government employees will have a half holiday tomorrow out of respect for the late Lord Tweedsmuir, whose funeral service then takes place.

It was announced at the Legislative Buildings that the schools and public buildings would close at noon.

No action was taken in regard to retail stores and other private business. It was pointed out that in most of the larger centres retail stores take their usual half holiday on Wednesday afternoon.

Body of Governor Lies in State In Canada's Capital

By C. R. BLACKBURN

OTTAWA (CP)—Lord Tweedsmuir came for the last time to Parliament Hill today, to a hushed and sorrowing capital where high and low alike will pay their final respects to a Governor-General beloved of all Canada.

At noon the funeral train arrived from Montreal, where His Excellency died Sunday night after a concussion received in a fall at Rideau Hall just one week ago today.

Fifteen minutes later the casket lay on a dais in the centre of the Senate chamber, to remain there until the state funeral tomorrow afternoon.

Under a cloudless sky with a brilliant sun shining warmly through the frosty air on a perfect winter setting, the black and purple-draped train drew into the Union Station, where a waiting throng was held back to make way for the official party.

LEADERS ATTEND

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff, administrator of the government since Lord Tweedsmuir's death, and Prime Minister King were at the station, as were all members of the federal cabinet who were able to be in Ottawa, representatives of the Supreme Court of Canada, all the diplomatic corps, including the High Commissioner for the United Kingdom, the new United States minister and the ministers of France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Japan, the High Commissioners from Australia, South Africa and Elze, senior officers of the headquarters staff of the armed forces and many others high in church and state.

A purple and black platform had been erected on the station platform to the height of the railway car and on that the casket was moved from the car "Bonaventure," which had borne the body from Montreal.

The casket, draped with the Union Jack and bearing the Governor-General's head-dress was passed to the shoulders of eight bearers from the firing party, who carried it through the lines of the guard of honor, from the Governor-General's footguards.

Hon. Alastair Buchan, the late Governor-General's third son, and Sir Shuldham Redfern, personal secretary to the Governor-General, followed immediately behind the casket as the guard of honor, lining the route from the end of the train, through the station concourse and out the east door, presented arms.

On the street the body was placed in a motor hearse which had an escort of motorcycle police.

Throughout the slow-march procession from the station to the Parliament Buildings there was almost a complete hush over normal activities of the city. The cortege passed through streets crowded with people and, for several hundred yards from the station, the way was lined by troops of the Foot Guards and the Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa.

FAMILIAR SCENES
The route led past scenes associated with Lord Tweedsmuir's vice-regal term.

The procession passed the Chateau Laurier, where His Excellency addressed scores of dinners and luncheons at meetings and conventions of national organizations.

As the cortege wound about the slope leading to the Peace Tower its way was lined by men of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Hon. Alastair Buchan and Sir Shuldham Redfern fell in immediately behind the casket as it was taken from the hearse and borne through the main entrance. Sir Lyman Duff followed immediately after, with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and others of the official party.

From the entrance beneath the Peace Tower the casket was carried down the heavily-draped corridor to the Senate chamber.

There a dais had been prepared, with tall candles at each of the four corners. In an anteroom floral tributes from all parts of Canada awaited placement about the bier.

From 3 this afternoon until 6 the body lay in state while many citizens filed past. The bier was guarded by four officers, one of them Hon. Alastair Buchan. Another period for the public from 8 till 10 tonight was arranged.

BROADCAST
The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will broadcast the funeral service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here tomorrow afternoon, it was announced this afternoon.

The CBC also may broadcast the funeral procession to and from the church with one or two observers describing the scene.

The service is scheduled to start around 11.15 a.m., P.S.T. All programs, including local commercial, network commercial and sustaining programs will be canceled from 9 a.m., P.S.T., until 3 p.m., P.S.T. After the funeral service, suitable programs will be broadcast.

Finns Win Back Points on Line Reds Invaded

HELSINGFORS (AP)—After 13 days of bitter fighting, Finnish military authorities announced tonight that all positions of strategic importance on the Karelian Isthmus had been won back by Finnish counter-attacks.

The Finns acknowledged for the first time that they had "withdrawn" late Sunday from some of these positions in the sector about Summa.

A military interpreter explained that this often occurs in "battles of such fury as are now going on."

The Mannerheim Line is still intact, this Finn said.

(The Russian army announced in Moscow today that its forces on the Isthmus had captured 32 "defensive fortifications" Monday and a total of 61 such positions within the past week.)

"We have recaptured these positions now," said the Finnish spokesman, "and are leaving in Russian hands only a few outlying machine-gun posts of no importance in the battle along the Mannerheim Line, which itself still holds."

This interpretation of the fighting in the region of the Mannerheim Line—Finland's main defence fortifications—came after the daily army communiqué had told of "several successful counter-attacks" on the Isthmus in all-day fighting yesterday, and had described action farther north, where the Finns were said to have driven a Russian detachment back across its own frontier.

GERMAN ATTACK

LONDON (AP)—Tatirced Borenius, secretary of the commission which in 1919 notified the powers of Finland's independence, today declared there was "every reason to believe a German expeditionary force would land in southern Finland soon."

Conversion Loan

LONDON (CP)—Holders of more than two-thirds of the £350,000,000 ($1,557,500,000) conversion loan scheduled for redemption July 1 have chosen to accept five-year government bonds carrying 2½ per cent less interest instead of cash. Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced in the House of Commons today.

The 1940-44 conversion loan carried 4½ per cent interest. Fixing July 1 as redemption date, Sir John announced January 17 that bondholders had the choice of repayment in specie or in bonds of a net 2 per cent loan redeeming beginning July 1, 1945. The treasury reserved the right to buy back these bonds at par any time after July 1, 1943. Bondholders had until February 8 to make their decision.

U-BOAT PROTEST BY HOLLAND

THE HAGUE (AP)—The newspaper De Telegraf said today the Netherlands government, if first messages prove correct, would protest to the German government "in the most vigorous terms" against the torpedoing and sinking of the Netherlands liner Burgerdijk.

Authoritative circles expressed great indignation over the incident, which they termed a case of "senseless destruction."

The 6,833-ton vessel was torpedoed by a German submarine Saturday off England's southeast coast while on a direct run from New York to Rotterdam. The vessel's owners, the Holland-America Line, said that she had not submitted to British contraband control and that the submarine commander gave no reason for the attack.

The Burgerdijk was said to carry a cargo of which nine-tenths, including wheat, was consigned to the Netherlands government, and one-tenth to private importers in the Netherlands.

Roosevelt's Envoy Promised Britain's Aid

LONDON (AP)—The British government will welcome Under-Secretary Sumner Welles of the United States State Department when he comes as President Roosevelt's emissary, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today.

Mr. Chamberlain said the government would be ready "to take him fully into their confidence with the object of assisting the President to form an estimate of the present situation."

The prime minister was replying to a member's question. Welles is to visit Rome, Berlin, Paris and London to gather information for the President.

U.S. Defence Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill appropriating $252,340,776 for national defence and enforcement of United States neutrality.

The money will become immediately available for expenditure before June 30.

Japanese Deputy Assails Secrecy On Army Outlays

TOKYO (AP)—At a heated session of the budget committee of the Diet's Lower House, the all-powerful Japanese army was criticized today for the second time in 10 days.

In the most outright way since the war in China started, a member of the committee assailed bitterly the secrecy surrounding the military expense account and demanded a detailed explanation.

War Minister Shunroku Hata bluntly refused.

The controversy became so heated at one time that Hata ordered stenographic recording of the proceedings to be halted.

"The people are uneasy," the questioner, Ryozo Makino, Seiyukai Party member, said, "and to remove that uneasiness it is necessary that the armament plan must be explained concretely to some extent. The people are barred from making political criticism, but they are criticizing, nevertheless, in other ways. They still want to know why Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye had to resign."

Hata replied that army estimates were based on "common sense," and reiterated that hostilities were continuing in China on a large scale. He said the army budget was designed to meet the international situation "for three or four years hence."

NOT DISCHARGING DUTIES

"We cannot discharge our duties if the army continues to make such replies regarding this enormous expense," Makino retorted, "nor do I consider the war minister is discharging his. We cannot meet our tasks if all we have is the army's request to have faith."

Hata then cut the stenographic record with a reference to the international situation.

"The War Minister's explanation is all wrong," Makino shouted, declaring the navy had made a better explanation of its budget, and therefore it was unnecessary for the army to maintain the most extreme secrecy.

"I cannot give further explanation," Hata replied.

The committee chairman then attempted to mediate the dispute and Hata remarked that "we are in the midst of war and are doing all possible to prevent espionage. Beyond this I cannot explain."

The overseas minister, Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, then entered the controversy and told Makino an explanation of the budget would disclose the number of men under arms and much information about armament and asked the questioner to consider this.

Unappeased, Makino retired from the rostrum.

LOSS OF SHIP

Before the committee's heated sitting ended Ryo Koyama, rightist member, charged Great Britain with responsibility for the sinking of the Japanese liner Terukuni Maru November 23.

The Terukuni went down off the English coast presumably after striking a mine. Koyama declared that "weather conditions at the time make us doubt that the mine was laid by German vessels; moreover it is clear that the British Admiralty designated the route" followed by the liner.

CLING TO FACT

Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita told the lower house of the Diet that Japan does not intend to withdraw from the anti-Comintern pact even if the dispositions of one or two of the other member nations differ now from what they were when the pact was concluded.

Britain Calls 10,000 to Join Sea Patrols

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty today announced it was recruiting 10,000 additional fishermen for naval patrol duty to meet the menace of German minelaying aircraft and magnetic mines.

At the same time it was disclosed the Royal Air Force was expanding swiftly.

Since the war started 10,000 fishermen have entered the navy to aid in the fight Britain is waging against submarines and mines, surface raiders and planes which have bombed and machine-gunned fishing boats and lightships.

About 300 fishermen are being recruited weekly, a naval source said. The age limits are 18 to 45, but experienced men up to 60 have been accepted. One man of 72 was reported found in the ranks.

Pay ranges from the equivalent of $5 weekly for seamen to about $10 weekly for enginemen. Additional allowances are made for dependents or when the seamen is employed in minesweeping or anti-submarine work.

At the start of the war the navy used many trawlers under charter contracts covering vessels and crews, but as the contracts expired the Admiralty took over the ships and enlisted the crews. "Many new vessels are being built and others are being taken up," one source said.

AIR DEVELOPMENT

The air force, already with a big airplane construction program in progress, is buying planes—mostly of the heavier type—in the United States and from a nation cautiously described as "at least one other air-skilled neutral," and soon will train fliers in Canada.

To balance this development of men and machines, the Air Force issued a call today for radio experts, said to be wanted especially for the elaborate air defence system, which is co-ordinated through complicated signalling methods.

British contentions that their planes already are superior to Germany's in quality were given support today by a highly authoritative source, which said the R.A.F. had shot down 59 German planes over the North Sea and coastal areas since the war began and damaged 20 others so they were "probable losses."

On the other side of the ledger, British losses in these encounters have been 18 bombers and one coastal reconnaissance plane, but not a single fighter (pursuit) craft, the source said.

The Germans' losses were placed at about $4,000,000 worth of planes and 200 fliers.

The figures were supplied to show Britain's efforts against the aerial bombardments by which Germany is attacking British sea supply lines. These attacks have averaged one a day since January 1.

PLAN COUNTER-ATTACKS

Preparations for enlarging the coastal air defences were understood also to provide for intensified counter-attacks.

Britain would be at a disadvantage on this score, however, for she has 900 miles of threatened coastline, while Germany's exposed coast is only a little more than 100 miles long, much of it guarded by seaplane bases on islands.

Giving point to the coastal air patrol was the rescue last night of the 10-man crew of the British trawler Theresa Boyle, sunk by a German bomber Saturday.

A British plane sighted a lifeboat and directed a minesweeper to it off the northeast coast.

Gale Velocity at Peak Was 54 Miles

For seven continuous hours last night one of the worst south-easters of the winter swept the city at a peak velocity of 54 miles an hour. Breaking suddenly, the storm reached gale proportions about 7 and continued almost without abatement until 2 this morning.

While the instruments at the Meteorological Observatory at Gonzales registered a velocity of 54 miles, it was admitted by the weather experts that some of the gusts may have registered 60 miles.

A tremendous sea was kicked up in the straits just before dusk and the great combers piling against the Ross Bay seawall were so heavy that all traffic had to be diverted.

Throughout the evening the rockbound coastline was bathed in seething white foam. Fortunately, despite the force of the wind, there were no serious mishaps reported.

Small craft held to their moorings but were watched by their owners most of the night.

Trees were blown down in the storm and street lighting at some points required attention by linemen, but on the whole, little inconvenience was experienced by the public.

SOVIET EMBASSY IN PARIS WATCHED

PARIS (AP)—The foreign ministry announced today a special police watch had been installed over the Soviet Embassy in Paris in disregard of its diplomatic immunity because of its "relations" with the outlawed French Communist Party.

Authorities asserted surveillance of the embassy here went no farther than regulations already imposed by Russia on the French Embassy in Moscow. They accused the Russians of questioning, searching and even photographing visitors to the French diplomatic headquarters.

Police raided the Soviet trade bureau here last week and ransacked its files.

A Soviet protest against the incident was rejected by the French government.

Posting a guard around the embassy was declared to have "no political significance" in regard to Russian-French relations, but feeling between the two powers has cooled sharply since the Nazi-Soviet accord was concluded last August.

After war broke out France outlawed the Communist Party, conducted widespread raids on Communist organization headquarters and jailed several Communist members of the Chamber of Deputies.

Hon. J. M. Wilson Quits Senate

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator J. Macellin Wilson of Sorel, Que., has resigned from the upper chamber, it was learned today.

His resignation, because of ill health, leaves two vacancies in the red chamber.

Mr. Wilson, a man of wide financial interests, is chairman of the board of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, president of the General Trust Co. of Canada and a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Consolidated.

He was appointed to the Senate May 3, 1911, by the Laurier government.

There were 13 vacancies when Parliament was dissolved last January 25, but shortly afterwards six of these were killed and only last Friday the government named six more senators.

8 U-BOAT MEN SEIZED BY BRITISH

LONDON (CP)—Official announcement today listed the names of eight German submarine officers and men taken prisoners.

"This made a total of 16 names announced in the last 24 hours. The bare announcement gave no indication of where or when the men were captured."

Survivors of the Swedish steamship Orania, 1,854 tons, said on reaching a British port today that their ship was torpedoed without warning Sunday in the North Sea and sank within three minutes.

A British warship picked up the 10 survivors, but a lifeboat containing the captain, his wife and 12 seamen is missing. British lifeboats are searching for it.

A mine or torpedo was blamed for the sinking of the 1,213-ton Estonian steamship Linda, reported last night. She was en route from England to Gothenberg, Sweden. The Linda's assistant engineer was reported injured fatally.

WEEK'S LOSSES

German action sank six ships—three British and three neutral—during the past week, the Admiralty announced today.

Neutral losses totaled 10,128 tons and British losses 19,585 tons.

Up until last Wednesday, the Admiralty said, only 18 ships were lost in convoy out of 8,284 escorted.

One of the two neutrals lost, the Greek steamship Keramiali, was sunk by a German submarine which was subsequently destroyed, the Admiralty declared.

NORWAY LOSES SHIP

OSLO (CP-Havas)—The 5,200-ton Norwegian ship Nidarholm was sunk yesterday while en route from New York to Liverpool, according to reports received here today. All crew members were rescued. She was believed to have been torpedoed.

ROOSEVELT NAVY PLANS MAY BE CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $111,699,699 slash was made in President Roosevelt's budget for the navy today by a House of Representatives committee which recommended appropriations of $966,772,878, and urged the United States build battleships and cruisers "superior" to those abroad.

The cut, from the President's figure of $1,078,472,577, was the largest yet made by the appropriations committee in any single budget recommendation, but the committee said the fleet's needs could be "adequately met" with the smaller sum.

Included in the measure was $1,000,000 to start work on a $3,000,000 project designed to develop the tiny Pacific island of Guam as a naval "lookout" post. Guam improvements were turned down by Congress last year after a heated controversy involving questions of foreign policy toward Japan.

In sending the navy bill to the House floor the committee also cut $16,316,250 from the amount of "contract" authorizations recommended in the budget. Thus the total decrease in the amount the navy could spend or obligate in the fiscal year beginning July 1 amounted to $128,015,949.

Post Offices to Close

OTTAWA (CP)—Out of respect to the late Lord Tweedsmuir, post offices and customs houses in Canada will be closed tomorrow afternoon, the day of the funeral, it was announced today.

However, essential services will be maintained wherever necessary.

Ontario Minister Backs King Man

TORONTO (CP)—Liberal candidates for the federal election March 26 were named in four southern Ontario ridings last night, and a member of the provincial cabinet, Agriculture Minister P. M. Dewar, swung behind the federal Liberal in his riding.

Mr. Dewar, who joined in Premier Mitchell Hepburn's resolution criticizing the Dominion government's war effort as "so little" in the Legislature last month, told Oxford Liberals: "I shall be without reservation wholeheartedly behind the candidate chosen at this convention."

The convention nominated A. S. Rennie of Tillsonburg, member for Oxford when Parliament was dissolved last month. He will be opposed at the polls by Charles Milton, Blenheim Township farmer and Conservative candidate.

R. J. Deachman of Wingham, frequently heard in the House of Commons on financial and agricultural subjects, won the North Huron Liberal nomination again. Elston Cardiff is Conservative nominee in the riding.

Fred. Hoblitzel, well-known golfer and business executive, made his first public speech last night and was named Liberal candidate in Toronto-Eglinton. R. L. Baker, Conservative, was member for the riding at dissolution of Parliament last month.

Two veterans of Conservative Party activity in Toronto entered the lists.

T. L. Church, K.C., former mayor of Toronto and member of Parliament since 1921, was nominated unanimously last night to contest the riding of Toronto-Broadview again.

Conservatives of Toronto-Trinity chose Lieut.-Col. the Hon. G. Reginald Geary, K.C., minister of justice in the short-lived administration of 1925-26, when he represented the old riding of Toronto South. He will be opposed by A. W. Roebuck, now Independent Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Toronto-Bellwoods, who won the Liberal nomination from the sitting member, Hugh Plaxton. Mr. Plaxton has announced he will run as an Independent Liberal.

Kennedy to Return To London Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain, said today he would take back to London a proposal for "swapping" certain British and United States shipping routes, which would result in putting idle American ships to work again.

Following a 40-minute conference with State Secretary Cordell Hull, Mr. Kennedy declared he hoped to get the British to turn over to the United States routes now operated solely by British ships, which already are being removed from some of these to carry war materials on other routes.

LONDON (CP)—The Evening News today said six German merchantmen left Vigo, Spain, February 10, under cover of darkness to attempt a dash through the Allied blockade to Germany.

The ships took refuge in the Spanish port at the outbreak of war. They were listed with tonnage as the Wagon, 7,848; Orizaba, 6,937; Wahehe, 6,937; Arucas, 3,369; Rostock, 2,542; Morea, 1,927.

The Evening News did not give the source of its information.

Montreal Honors Late Governor In Solemn Parade

MONTREAL (CP)—A special train bearing the body of Lord Tweedsmuir back to Ottawa left here at 9:50 this morning.

The flag-covered casket, containing the body of the Governor-General, was borne to the three-car train from a gun carriage after an impressive procession along streets lined with thousands of sorrowing, bare-headed Montrealers.

The city's farewell began at the Mountain Street undertaking chapel, where the body had laid in a quiet, dimly-lighted chamber since early yesterday. Throughout the night, officers of the Canadian Grenadier Guards had continued their watch over the casket.

A military band played a funeral dirge as the casket was carried down the snow-covered chapel pathway and placed on the gun carriage. The casket was borne by eight pallbearers—one aide-de-camp and seven honorary aides-de-camp.

Silent thousands thronged the streets of the route, lined with men of the ranks, 700 strong. Veterans, too, were there, medals and decorations gleaming on their breasts.

The casket, drawn by 60 ratings of the Royal Canadian Volunteer Naval Reserve, moved east along Sherbrooke Street and then south along Peel and Windsor Streets to the station.

REPRESENTATIVES

Following the carriage were representatives of the Dominion, provincial and municipal governments and foreign consulates. The Dominion Government was represented by Senator Raoul Dandurand, who confers included Senators C. P. Baileublen, C. C. Ballantyne, Adrian K. Hugessen and J. H. Rainville. Mayor Camillien Houde represented the City of Montreal.

Next in the procession came officers of the headquarters staff of Military District No. 4.

Hundreds of Montrealers crowded the big, rambling station, which was draped in black and purple. Pipers played if Scottish air as the casket was carried to the train by eight bareheaded members of the Canadian Active Service Force.

Doctor to Face Jury

MERRITT, B.C. (CP)—Dr. George Henry Tutill, 72, pioneer Nicola Valley physician, was committed for trial in a higher court today on three charges of selling morphine illegally when he appeared in police court before Magistrate Robert Taylor. He was granted bail of $5,000.

Through his counsel, J. W. North, Dr. Tutill elected to be tried by jury. The case will be heard at the Kamloops assizes in May.

Preliminary hearing of the case was held here last week, at which time a Royal Canadian Mounted Police operative testified he had bought drugs from Dr. Tutill.

Maritimes Get T.C.A. Connection

VANCOUVER — Inauguration of passenger service to the Maritime provinces is announced by Trans-Canada Airlines with the first trip effective from Vancouver Wednesday evening.

While the terminus will be Moncton, N.B., connections with Canadian Airways there link the transcontinental service with Halifax, Saint John, Summerside and Charlottetown.

As a result of the schedule changes, trip one from the east will arrive at 11:25 a.m., instead of 11:10 a.m., as at present, and the connecting plane for Seattle will depart at 12 noon instead of 11:45 a.m.

Thyssens Out

GENEVA (AP)—Fritz Thyssen, early supporter of Adolf Hitler and once one of the wealthiest men in Europe, said tonight he had not been notified officially of a Nazi decree depriving him of German citizenship.

"If it is true," he told reporters, "it may be an effort to get rid of me as a member of the Reichstag."

The decree depriving Thyssen and his wife of German citizenship was published in the official German gazette in Berlin yesterday.

Thyssen said he might go to the United States in the spring.

2 Workmen Drowned

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Jacob Alles and Clifford Mahaffey, employees of the West Kootenay Power & Light Company's Upper Bonington plant near here, were drowned in the Kootenay River yesterday when a slab of concrete smashed through the pier on which they were working.

Big Tobacco Purchase

ISTANBUL (AP)—British representatives were reported today to have concluded a contract for the purchase of $4,000,000 ($17,800,000) worth of Turkish tobacco annually, with the possibility of a further substantial increase. The British ministry of supply also was said to have contracted for 5,750 tons of dried raisins and figs.

Australian Wheat

SYDNEY (CP-Reuters)—The 1939-40 Australian wheat crop was estimated today at 210,400,000 bushels by the Commonwealth statistician, representing a gain of 55,900,000 bushels over the previous year. Figures released January 9 had estimated the 1939-40 harvest at 186,500,000 bushels.

State Election

MELBOURNE (CP-Reuters)—The state parliament of Victoria was dissolved today and elections called for March.

Victoria has been governed by a United Country Party administration formed April 2, 1939, under Premier A. A. Dunstan, who also holds the portfolios of treasurer and solicitor-general.

FARM LIVING COSTS LOWER

OTTAWA (CP)—Farm living costs were lower in 1939 than in 1938, despite the advance in food prices in the last quarter, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. On the 1926 base of 100, the 1939 indices for spring and fall, respectively, were 82.2 and 81.9, compared with 1938 index of 84.0.

Lease Offer for Nanaimo Arena

NANAIMO—A proposal to lease the ice arena which is under construction here was received by the City Council last night and will be further considered in committee. The arena will be on city-owned lands and is to cost $91,000.

Don Mills, who has for several years been interested in promoting professional hockey on the coast and who states he owns a franchise in the Coast Hockey League, offered the city a guarantee of $5,000 per year. He wants either a 20-year lease or would be willing to sign up for a three-year term. He states, if signed, he would immediately sign players in the east for next season, and have them ready for a Nanaimo team entry into the Coast League next November.

He would also promote local leagues and bring on young local players for big league stuff in the years to come.

He plans for box lacrosse in season, and a general promotion by sport catering to the fans of the entire island.

The council assured a delegation of unemployed that city jobs will get their share of work on the Dominion-provincial unemployment aid scheme, which includes improvement of beaches and parks and the construction of a civic arena.

The men criticized the hiring of workers on the arena project and were told by Alderman George Muir it was done by a committee composed of a city council representative, and representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments.

Mayor V. B. Harrison said the council would go into the matter fully and discuss it with the joint committee. He reminded the delegation, however, that city money was not involved in the works projects.

A message of sympathy was wired to Lady Tweedsmuir on the death of the Governor-General.

Council learned that the Vancouver Island Union Library has set the assessment for Nanaimo City for the year at $2,698.

Press Lauds Anzac Move

LONDON (CP)—The press hailed today the arrival of Australian and New Zealand troops in the Middle East as further proof of the Dominions' intensive war efforts.

"Turn your eyes to Suez," the London Daily Herald said. "There Anthony Eden (Dominions Secretary) welcomed on your behalf yesterday the Anzacs of 1940."

"Nothing could make us British rejoice more than the quick decision of the Dominions to give not merely moral but practical help in the present mortal struggle."

The London News Chronicle saw the arrival as one more answer "to false prophets in Germany who built hope on the break-up of the Empire in the event of war."

"Once more," it said, "the Australians and New Zealanders have taken war stations for the defence of our common heritage."

The Times of London said: "The Allies have been building quietly in the near and Middle East in readiness for any emergency in any part of the world."

"Both Australian and New Zealand forces are composed exclusively of men who have volunteered individually to take their part in this crusade for freedom and for the right of small nations to maintain their independence against lawless aggression."

"Governments and people are united on this question as they have rarely been united before."

"In Australia and New Zealand, as was also the case in Canada, the governments were disposed to think the speediest and most useful way was to co-operate with Great Britain in building an irresistible air force, and that it would be unwise to launch out into any other enterprise which might weaken that effort."

"But in all three Dominions public opinion and the men themselves insisted that the great traditions built up by Dominion armies in Gallipoli and in Flanders must be maintained, that they must take their parts in the war on land as well as in the air."

WILMINGTON, Del.—A new lacquer for paper which is waterproof is announced here by E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company.

Intended for use as a protective film on packages, the new lacquer is impermeable to water vapor, it is stated. It is resistant to scuffing and scratching and can be made to resist alcohol, grease and other reagents. Offsetting and smearing of inks on labels of products which must be packaged while hot are prevented by its use, it is claimed.

Restaurant Rations Cause No Hardship

LONDON (CP)—It does not appear that the present scale of rationing in restaurants will cause hardship. Unknown to themselves, diners in one of London's largest hotels have undergone voluntary rationing for a week.

"We agreed to the request of the Ministry of Food to try out rationing," the manager of the Savoy revealed. "It has been a complete success. Tactful suggestions from waiters to the diners resulted in large scale substitution of poultry, fish and eggs for meats."

Catering establishments are being restricted to 60 per cent of their usual meat supply.

Winnipeg Suspect, Hunted, Ends Life

WINNIPEG (CP)—A three-day police search for the slayer of a Winnipeg city officer wound up today in the suicide of the hunted man.

Mike Atamouchuk, 25-year-old ex-convict on whom Police Chief George Smith placed blame for the death of Constable John McDonald in a Saturday night gun battle with safecrackers, sent a bullet through his own body when cornered.

He was the third man rounded up by police since Constable McDonald, and Constable Norman Stewart laid a trap for cracksmen in the downtown Radio Building. Four men shot their way out of the trap, a bullet through the head of Claming McDonald's life while Stewart suffered a hand wound.

A little while after the death of McDonald, father of a two-year-old boy who sobbed pitifully when told "daddy won't be home today," searching police accosted an automobile resembling the get-away car. A gun duel through city streets ensued. The driver was arrested, his car revealing blood stains and a gun.

A second running gun fight occurred yesterday when a second suspect was caught in downtown Winnipeg, and rushed to a hospital. Police refused to divulge the man's names and also the names of two others held because they are suspected of knowledge regarding the gang's movements before McDonald was killed.

At 4.30 a.m., today Atamouchuk, recently released from Stony Mountain Penitentiary, was reported in the north end of the city and police squads, armed with shotguns and rifles, rushed to the hide-out.

Detective Sergeant Harry Alexander's order to open the door was answered by Atamouchuk: "I can't. I have a gun in my back."

"Open up or we'll bomb you out," Alexander persisted.

The voice of a second man in the room pleaded with police not to shoot. A rifle was tossed from the suite and the man gave himself up. He was not identified by police.

Then a shot was heard in the room. Police found Atamouchuk slumped on the floor. The bullet had gone through his body and imbedded itself in the wall.

West Front in Grip Of Cold Wave

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Cold weather again paralyzed operations along the western front today.

Yesterday's activity was featured by British long-range reconnaissance flights over north-western Germany, by way of the North Sea, it was reported here. Nazi pursuit ships were sent up to give battle, but the British planes returned to their bases in England unscathed.

The French air force attempted only one reconnaissance flight. A number of pursuit ships were aloft, but no air engagements were reported. A German reconnaissance ship was sent over northern France.

Routine land patrols went about their usual assignments yesterday, but no fighting of any importance took place.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communiqué today said: "No special events."

Labor Candidate Wins

LONDON (CP)—J. H. Martin, Labor, was elected to Parliament yesterday to fill the Southwark central seat left vacant by the death of Col. Harry Day, Labor.

His election was a triumph over organizations supporting a "stop the war" program, who put up C. W. Searson to oppose him.

Martin polled 5,285 votes, Searson polled 1,550 votes and a third candidate, Mrs. Vau Der Elst, running as a National Independent, polled 1,281.

In the 1935 general election Col. Day polled 11,098 votes against 9,735 for E. Stanford, National Labor.

Manion Urges Best War Effort

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—Business reasons—as well as Empire sentiments and love of democratic liberties—demand that Canada's war effort should be wholehearted, in the opinion of Conservative Leader R. J. Manion.

If Britain and France were beaten, what would become of Canada's export trade, on which much of this country's prosperity depends, he asked when addressing a meeting of his constituents here last night. It might well be that Canada itself would be in danger if Hitler were victor.

"That is one reason why, now that we are in the war, we must do our very best, short of conscription, to aid in winning it," Dr. Manion said.

The Conservative leader stressed necessity of planning now to meet problems after the war, emphasizing the need—"if we are to preserve our present economic system"—of providing for the nation's youth, its most valuable resource.

He pledged himself "to an unremitting effort to provide opportunity for our youth, irrespective of their creed, politics, social or economic status, to train them to occupy their rightful places of service and responsibility in the community."

He promised to appoint a minister of youth welfare for that purpose.

DISCUSSION WITH BUCK

The Conservative leader made brief reference to an exchange of letters he had last March with Tim Buck, Dominion secretary of the Communist Party of Canada, in which he had cited an encyclopedia definition of communism, in part, as emphasizing the "initial necessity of civil war."

At that time he had remarked to Buck that he had no knowledge that the Communist Party of Canada had dissociated itself from Russian communism and its world revolution aims, its wiping out of freedom of speech, press and assembly, its attempted destruction of religion and family life.

Dr. Manion said Russia had at last declared itself as an aggressor in its invasion of Finland, showing it shared the objectives and methods of Hitler.

Because of his criticism in the House of Commons and elsewhere of the Communist Party, the Clarion, former Communist paper, had dubbed him Canada's No. 1 enemy of communism, he said. He felt sure, all good Canadians, whether Protestant or Catholic, objected to communism.

He defined communism as establishment of socialism by force, by revolt, whereas the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation aimed to bring about socialism by constitutional means.

Dr. Manion's speech last night was not broadcast, out of respect for the memory of the late Lord Tweedsmuir.

The Conservative leader announced he would broadcast over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation from Brandon, Man., on Friday from 8.30 to 9 p.m. P.S.T.

AIM BY TRACERS

WITH THE R.A.F. ON THE WESTERN FRONT, France—German fighter pilots may be using tracer bullets instead of the conventional open gun sights as a means of sighting their machine guns.

Royal Air Force pilots report their adversaries have in their gun magazines between 26 per cent and 100 per cent of incendiary bullets that leave a trail visible for 300 yards, the range of fighter plane machine guns. This is the first time such a high percentage has been consistently used aloft and can be attributed only with difficulty to the simple desire to set fire to the enemy plane as quickly as possible. Fewer tracers would suffice if the latter were the only purpose in their use.

Tracer bullets are commonly used for spotting a target and aiming at night, but this is believed the first time they have been so used in the air under all conditions. English airmen are critical of the scheme, however, preferring their regular sights.

How Students Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—A circular issued by Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, rules that students entitled to vote in the forthcoming general election must vote in the electoral districts in which their families ordinarily reside rather than in the electoral districts in which the educational institutions attended by the students are situated.

The only exceptions are students living apart from their families with the intention of remaining apart from them. This would apply to a student who is on his own and is not domiciled with his family during his holidays.

Fund Aids Evacuees With Behavior Problems

LONDON—Children evacuated from London at the start of the war and their hosts in safer country districts are getting help with behavior problems and other mental hygiene needs even though the war forced the Commonwealth Fund-supported London Child Guidance Clinic to close its doors in September.

The work is being continued as far as possible by the Child Guidance Council, it is announced in the annual report of the American-financed Commonwealth Fund.

The Commonwealth Fund began its work during the World War and while the present war threatens "every one of its major objectives," efforts are being made to carry on both in America and abroad.

Most of the $1,900,000 appropriated by the fund during the past year was spent to improve health conditions, both mental and physical.

Quality is also emphasized in the rural hospital program. With aid from the fund, 10 hospitals have been built in small towns and plans have been made for enlarging two of the 10 which have already outgrown their buildings.

Specially-treated plate glass is being used for school blackboards—some of which are ivory or green, rather than black.

BERLIN RESIDENTS SUFFER FROM COLD

BERLIN (AP)—Protracted cold weather which aggravated a coal shortage found Berlin newspapers explaining to a shivering population today that "it's no one's fault."

Hundreds of business offices were without heat, and many factories sent their workers home.

The temperature in the unheated Associated Press offices last night was 38 degrees. The staff worked in overcoats.

With outside temperatures ranging down to 10 degrees above zero, thousands of Berliners were besieging shops of fuel dealers.

Newspapers, with a unanimity indicating a suggestion from authorities, declared the extraordinary weather alone was responsible.

More coal than ever is available in Germany, they said, and railroads are hauling record loads.

According to the dictionary, a stew is: A hot bath; a small room; a heated room; a low resort or dive; a dish of meat and vegetables; a stewpan; a state of excitement or worry; a place where tame pheasants are bred; a vivarium for fish; an artificial bed of oysters, etc.

New Method to Help Stomach Sufferers

VENICE, Fla. (AP)—By cutting a little muscle which controls the flow of bile into the intestines, a Canadian doctor reported today he had found a way to relieve indigestion and gastric ailments that rest, diet and medication will not cure.

Before the International College of Surgeons here Dr. Otto Demuth of Vancouver, B.C., explained his instrument and technique for severing the sphincter of oddi, which rings the inside of a duct leading from the pancreas, liver and gallbladder to the small intestines.

In certain cases of chronic indigestion and diseases of the gallbladder and liver, the sphincter tightens and cuts off the supply of juices needed to complete digestion of food.

Dr. Demuth said he had used the technique successfully since 1933. The instrument is a small knife concealed in a tube. It is inserted in the duct to the point where the blade, when expelled, will sever the muscle. Delicate handling is necessary in the operation because the muscle is hard to reach and a small artery which lies near the sphincter must not be cut, Dr. Demuth said.

NEW BRITISH STAMP

The Postmaster-General of Great Britain has announced his decision to proceed with the proposal to issue a special series of postage stamps of the lower denominations in May, to commemorate the centenary of the introduction of the first adhesive postage stamp.

This announcement, relayed through the British Library of Information, is of prime importance to collectors throughout the world, since the post office had held that the war made such an issue unfeasible. No indication was given as to the denominations, or whether the stamps would be sold as semi-postals with the proceeds to go to some war charity.

Help the creator of "The Dumbbells" to MAKE OUR SOLDIERS LAUGH

organizer of "The Dumbbells" during the last war. Now supervisor of Concert Party Work for Canada's Overseas Forces, under the auspices of Canadian Legion War Services.

1916! A ruined barn or hall in France... packed with Canadian troops. On the crude stage the lights go on. Scene follows scene... the audience rocks with laughter. Strange happiness comes to lonely hearts. 'Tis like a breath from home, this evening of gaiety amid war's tragedy.

Concert parties such as those which played to capacity houses behind the lines in France during the last war, are essential again to the morale of the Canadian troops. The task of organizing and training such concert parties has been undertaken by the Canadian Legion War Services. Capt. "Mert" Plunkett, organizer of "The Dumbbells," who is in charge of this work, is now in England organizing and training the men who will entertain our troops in England and France.

The Legion needs your help to finance this great work, to purchase costumes and equipment for these parties. Other vital needs of the troops which the Legion has undertaken to supply are as follows:

Home-like Facilities for Our Men Overseas

The Legion is establishing leave centre hostels in England and France. Here the men will be provided with beds and meals at nominal cost. Recreation and reading rooms will be available free of charge. Travel bureaux will be operated to assist men on leave.

Personal Services

Through its representatives in the field and its 1100 branches all over Canada, the Legion will help the men on service in the solution of worrying problems of a personal or business nature.

Educational and Vocational Training

In collaboration with the Canadian Association for Adult Education, an organization with a distinguished record, the Legion has undertaken a plan whereby Canadians on service may continue their training to fit them to take their places successfully in civil life after the war.

HELP WIN THE WAR!

Here is how you can do your bit. Your contribution to the Legion drive for $500,000 will help to keep up the morale of our men and will contribute to the happiness, comfort and future success of our boys overseas. Give to the Legion's new cause—today!

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1940

Good As It Was

ALL FACTORS CONSIDERED, AND NOT a few interposed at the height of the holiday season, the annual report of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau presented at the annual meeting yesterday recorded a good year. It would have been a great deal better, however, if a 24-day strike of crews operating United States ferry steamers had not seriously disturbed automobile traffic between the two countries at a time when tourist business pays its largest dividends. The outbreak of war likewise had an adverse effect on the normal movement of peoples. And, as Commissioner Warren points out, the San Francisco fair attracted a substantial volume of holiday travel which in the ordinary way would have come north.

In spite of the factors to which we have referred, however, Victoria's tourist business last year was only 2 per cent less than the record established in 1938. Here in itself would seem to lie the promise that 1940 will set a new mark far in excess of that of two years ago. There are several reasons to support this optimistic view: 1. The Victoria Bureau has set a high standard in publicity literature. 2. It is working in harmonious collaboration with the Provincial Travel Bureau which operates under the supervision of Hon. W. J. Asselstine. 3. It has strengthened its association with similar organizations in this province and in the United States. 4. Exchange rates have furnished it with a new and telling argument in its appeal for more visitors while the American dollar enjoys its premium. We may be sure, therefore, that the Bureau's able commissioner, Mr. George F. Warren, and his energetic staff will make the most of every advantage which presents itself.

Inquisitive Japanese

LITTLE BY LITTLE COME 'ACCOUNTS of disturbing factors in Japan; not especially important perhaps when taken by themselves, but when added up they convey the impression that some form of unrest among the people is beginning to manifest itself. It may already have dawned on the workers who draw very little pay for their toil, who are continually being called upon for still further sacrifices to enable the army to continue to prosecute its "incident" in China; that the promised victory for Japanese arms does not appear to be any nearer now than it did more than two years ago.

Reports of this kind may, or may not, have some relation to the proceedings in the Diet at Tokyo yesterday. This took the form of outright criticism of the army, with a budget committee bitterly assailing the secrecy surrounding the military expense account. He demanded an explanation—the cheek of the fellow—but War Minister Shunroku Hata bluntly refused to grant his request. Indeed, so electrified became the atmosphere and so heated the controversy, that, at one time, Hata ordered stenographic recording of the proceedings to be halted.

It will not do to place too much importance on this incident. Army influence in Japan, in Parliament and out of it, is fairly strongly entrenched and substantially supported by the industrialists and ruling classes whose chief concern is conquest and all they hope to benefit by it. At the same time, the apparent unhurried attitude of the United States to replace the now defunct commercial treaty with another agreement, under which Japanese export trade may not suffer as seriously as indications suggest it will, will probably dampen the ardor of the extremists in Tokyo, if not persuade them to deal sensibly with China. For the fact remains that if the Congress at Washington should decide to force the issue, either by placing an embargo on those war supplies which Japan has been getting in such large quantities during the last year or so, or by other means even more effective in a general way, the Mikado's government will have to make up its mind to much more serious policies than that which revelation of a military expense account would involve.

This is not to suggest that the United States government will be in any hurry to clear the air in the specific particular of Japan's campaign in China. What the Congress and the American people will demand in any new understanding with Tokyo, however, will be a hard and fast guarantee that American interests in the Orient shall not be subject to the form of challenge that has been applied in the last 18 months. This is something which Japan cannot ignore indefinitely.

No Change in Southwark

YESTERDAY'S BY-ELECTION IN THE Central division of the London borough of Southwark—made vacant by the death of Colonel Harry Day—once again returned a Labor representative to the British House of Commons. He was opposed by an advocate flying a "stop-the-war" banner and a National Independent in the person of Mrs. van der Elst. Out of an electoral roll of more than 24,000, less than 9,000 votes were cast, the winning candidate rolling up a plurality of 2,531.

While some interest may have been imparted to the campaign by the opposition to the Labor standard bearer which the anti-war candidate put up, it is not unlikely that Mrs. van der Elst furnished most of the novelty. On several occasions in recent years she has resorted to spectacular exhibitions—the hiring of airplanes and other forms of publicity—in an effort to persuade Parliament to abolish capital punishment. What progress she has made in the meantime we do not know; but she appears to be a very determined person and one day her cause may triumph.

Central Southwark, incidentally, is a Labor stronghold. Colonel Day first entered the lists, unsuccessfully, against a Liberal, in 1923, but won it in 1924, 1929, and 1935. A National Liberal nosing him out in the "crisis election" of 1931 by nearly 6,000. Both in 1918 and 1922 a Liberal held the seat. Post-war Conservative bids for it have resulted in the party's aspirant ending up at the bottom of the poll.

A Missing War Boom

THE OIL INDUSTRY ON THIS CONTINENT had expected the war to bring boom conditions, with soaring exports making logical a series of price increases of petroleum products in the United States and Canadian markets. The Wall Street Journal, discussing the disappointment that has come to the oil industry, says that actually North American oil exports have declined as much as 35 per cent since the war began.

All countries at war have been forced to ration petroleum for domestic use and the large amounts purchased for airplanes and tanks are subject to price-fixing regulations which all governments in position to do so have adopted. Even the Japanese, who, in 1938 bought more than 41,000,000 barrels of American oil—more than was taken by Great Britain, France and Germany together in that year—have been seeking new sources of supply, just in case there should be an embargo. Great Britain, ordinarily one of the largest customers of the North American oil industry, has been diverting her purchases to the Near East and South America, where exchange is more favorable. The neutral countries have rationed oil almost as severely as the belligerents because shipping facilities are scarce.

Altogether, the expected sellers' market for oil has not developed. This time the belligerents are not the spendthrifts they were in 1914 and after. It is all bad news for war-boom speculators, but it is not without satisfaction to the gasoline and oil consumers on this continent.

Every Caution Necessary

IT IS WELL THAT MEN WHO KNOW their jobs like the gallant Admiral "Evans of the Broke" should be telling the British people to temper their confidence in the future with a stern recognition of the realities of the moment. He warns against over-optimism, the danger of underestimating the foe and his resources—not to mention an utter disregard for even the elementary necessities—while others have quite properly cautioned against the hope of internal revolt in the Reich.

It is impossible for the Allies to lose, says Prime Minister Chamberlain, so long as they make no egregious blunders. It will be impossible for Hitler to win if the Allies and their peoples take nothing for granted and do every job, insignificant or spectacular, as if their very lives depended upon it. There still remains the struggle. It will be a bitter one. Its length will depend largely upon how the advice of "Evans of the Broke" is taken and acted upon.

If disarmament worked the same way in all cases, the Venus de Milo would be growing new ones.

If worse comes to worst in Finland Stalin may have to send in that 79-foot stainless steel Russian, late of the New York Fair.

The Swiss are reported unworried about the military situation in Europe. Maybe Belgium and the Netherlands would feel that way about things, too, if they had an Alp or two between them and Hitler.

Ships Needed Quickly

From Ottawa Citizen

Orders for naval craft in Canadian yards are being placed through the War Supply Board after serious delay. There are doubtless legitimate reasons for the loss of time since war began. The cabinet ministers are overwhelmed with demands for decisions on a multiplicity of war measures. Some decisions, too, are outside the government's power to make alone. It is Canadian policy to co-operate with Great Britain. There may have been delays on the British side.

Last week's orders for submarine chasers to be built in Canadian shipyards are a welcome sign of getting on with the job. The naval craft are to be built to British standard design. Perhaps the Minister of National Defence could see that the Canadian ships for the Canadian naval service include reasonable provision for heat in the living quarters. It is doubtful whether spartan living conditions promote much greater efficiency in a modern navy.

An early increase in the strength of Canada's minesweeping fleet and of naval craft for patrol duties would be one practical way to safeguard the existence of the present limited number of Canadian destroyers, as well as to save Canadian fishermen and merchant seamen from the possible consequences of enemy submarine mines as soon as the weather has abated to allow some of Germany's new submersible warships to strike at Canada.

Loose Bits

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

INSIDE GERMANY

SPEAKING AT A RECENT Press Club luncheon in London, Sir Neville Henderson, prewar British Ambassador to Berlin, said: "There has been a lot of talk about war aims. It seems to me that one of our war aims should be that at the end of the war there should be no hatred left on either side."

"We have got to make adjustments. We must end the war in such a way that the only grievances which the Germans have are against their own rulers, against their leaders, and against the system which has brought them to defeat."

Only such conviction will enable the Allies to save what they have fought for and won. This enlightenment comes only when ignorance and distrust of the people of other nations is banished.

If a tenth of the amount of money spent on world armaments were used each year in encouragement of international visiting by the populations of the world, there would very soon be no need of armaments. A little contact with one's fellow men in other countries soon rubs away the prejudices of ignorance, and nullifies the effects of subversive propaganda.

The fact that their governments have declared war does not change people into ogres, whichever side they may be on.

Young Fred from southern Germany, who looked so hopefully all summer to a year at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., on an exchange scholarship, was still the same likable student on September 3 as he was the day before.

Nor did Theo, six-foot blond lumber dealer of Cologne, change; Theo, to whom a chance meeting and a mutual interest in rowing and motorcycling were sufficient reason to invite a Canadian to his home for the week-end. Nor did his family change; his family, who like many other German households, had been corresponding regularly since 1918 with American and Canadian soldiers then billeted on them.

There were Heinrich, the middle-aged grocer, and his wife, whose little summer cottage on the outskirts of Berlin offered warm hospitality to a chance foreign acquaintance; and Albrecht, the young army flier, and his wife, who invited a Canadian to the comfort of their home and so proudly exhibited their little son, just learning to walk.

There were Heinz and Rudi and Hans and Robert—all upstanding, decent fellows. These people are not exceptions. There are millions like them, whom any visitor to Germany would meet. They are friendly, warm-hearted, hospitable, and governmental edict cannot change it.

IN GERMANY, while last summer's press campaign against Britain was at its height, I asked many different people to explain the astonishing contrasts between the sentiments expressed against foreigners in the newspapers, and the exactly opposite feelings of the people.

"It's just politics," said most of them, "struggling, and let it go at that."

"It doesn't represent us," stated a Berlin citizen, referring to the anti-British diatribes. "At first we used to read it and wonder, but now there is so much of it we just glance at it and throw it in the waste basket."

Still less do Jewish, Polish or Czech atrocities represent the mass of the German people. Perpetrated by a sadistic, perverted minority, these brutalities are not known or condoned by Germans any more than atrocities at Devil's Island or in Foreign Legion prison camps are known or supported by the ordinary French citizen.

One is left with the necessity of dividing the "enemy" into two: The unchanged mass of the people, and the out-of-control autocracy with which they are saddled.

Tomorrow, and tomorrow, and tomorrow, Creeps in this petty pace from day to day, To the last syllable of recorded time, And all our yesterdays have lighted fools The way to dusty death.

IN THE PINE WOODS

When the dusk is softly falling
In the pine woods, in the pine woods,
And the moth-grey shades of evening
Lightly cover bush and tree,
Then it is of you I'm thinking,
Then it is for you I'm longing,
Ever watching, ever waiting—
O my darling, come to me!

When the sea is softly moaning
Near the pine woods, near the pine woods,
And the stars are dully glowing
In the darkness of the sky,
Then it is of you I'm dreaming,
Your sweet face I see before me
As I listen, ever listening,
To the pine trees' lullaby.

CONSUMER PROTECTED IN THIS WAR

To the Editor:—A thoroughly impartial observer must admit that the King government has made every effort to prosecute the war in a manner that the situation at home and abroad justified. The people will testify at the polls to their appreciation of the government's prompt and efficacious action in protecting the consumer against any attempt at profiteering on the part of those who were in control of important necessities of life. It has chosen, regardless of political affiliation, highly qualified civil servants and prominent citizens to direct the activities of the various boards. It has, in spite of its critics, shown commendable dispatch in recruiting and equipping a splendid division of the C.A.S.F. The Prime Minister did not hesitate to make certain ministerial changes which he, and no doubt, his senior colleagues thought, would result in speeding the preparations for equipping, training, and dispatching the first division. We are, of course, free in a democratic country to criticize governments and their leaders, but criticism should be constructive, not vindictive. Mr. Hepburn's recent attacks upon Mr. King have been vitriolically vindictive.

Mr. King has at all times adhered to democratic principles, not the least important of which is to trust the people. Conscious of his own integrity and loyalty to democratic ideals, and to test public opinion in the matter of his administration and the conduct of the war, he promptly and courageously accepted the Hepburn-Drew challenge, and on March 26 the people will decide to whom the government of the country should be entrusted.

WASTE

To the Editor:—Now that we have a terrible war on our hands, I thought that we should try to make use of some of the waste material of which tons upon tons disfigure the beauty of our fine country.

Is there a use for discarded rubber tires, jar rings, boots, gloves, hot-water bottles, for old newspapers, cardboard boxes, cartons, magazines of which tons are wasted every year, for old shoes, leather gloves, saddles? As for tin cans, I have read that these can be pressed into bricks and used for buildings.

Is there a use for empty medicine bottles, chinaware, broken window panes, for feathers besides those used for bedding and pillows, for discarded enamel ware, aluminum pots and pans, for onion skins, potato tops, bones, wire, rags?

Could sugar be made from parsnips? The latter are easily grown and do well in British Columbia.

PATSY SWIFT'S PROGRESS

To the Editor:—I am quoting below a few lines from a letter I recently received from Mr. Shirley Gandell, president of the Cosmopolitan School of Music, Chicago, with reference to Patsy Swift of Victoria:

"It is with considerable satisfaction that I send you word that Patsy's voice has made marked progress recently. . . her low voice goes down to F quite easily now and will go lower so we are sure of three octaves. . . The main thing is the gain in beauty along with power."

Realizing, after a friendship of many years, how extremely conservative Mr. Gandell always is in his criticisms, I feel that we can all be very gratified with the above remarks.

I feel that many of Patsy's friends who are readers of the Times will be interested in the above.

THE GLOBE DENIES

From Toronto Globe and Mail

Because of continued circulation of groundless and malicious rumors that the Globe and Mail has been purchased by other interests despite the denial of its owner, and owing to the many anxious inquiries received from loyal readers, William H. Wright, the owner, has issued the following statement:

"The Globe and Mail is not for sale to anybody; it was not purchased for resale but rather as a means of rendering public service. I might also say that nobody has ever discussed with me purchasing the Globe and Mail, nor would there be any use of any one doing so."

"The persistent rumors having taken various forms, I would like also to state that George McCullagh is president and publisher of the Globe and Mail for his lifetime. He is at present, unfortunately, on leave of absence from the Air Force to enable him to recover from a severe bronchial attack."

"I would like to assure the readers of the Globe and Mail that it will continue to serve them according to the policy originally set down by Mr. McCullagh. At the end of the war, Mr. McCullagh will return to his desk."

WAR PROPHECY

From Comox Argus

An important and interesting lecture entitled "The Longest War in History" was given by Mrs. Olive Brake of Victoria in the Elks' Hall. She declared there can be no doubt as to the result of the present war. It has been specially promised the British Isles are to be safe and this may account for the extraordinary difficulties that Hitler is up against in his campaign against them, and also the disasters Russia has met with in her effort to conquer Finland and to imperil the safety of the British. Moreover the people of the kingdom, namely the Celto-Saxon peoples, are to be "God's Battle Ax and Weapons of War" by which he will punish the people of wickedness.

In Mrs. Brake's opinion the war will develop, not towards the west, but towards the Holy Land where God Himself will intervene, and our Lord will appear on the Mount of Olives and establish in righteousness the universal rule of His Kingdom in the earth.

ALL IN FUN

From San Francisco Chronicle

The sprightly Duncan sisters were sitting around their saloon the other morning, recalling some of their escapades abroad. There was the time, for instance, they were guests at a party thrown by Mrs. Guinness of the Guinness Stout family (My Guinness, You're Getting Stout) for King George of Greece and Victor Emmanuel of Portugal. The girls decided it would be a nice gesture to sing "The Argentines and the Portuguese and the Greeks"—so they did. The reaction was colder than a debutante's smile. Both kings felt somewhat insulted—until Mrs. Guinness painstakingly explained that the lyrics were all in fun. "Oh, so?" said the King of Greece to the Duncans, "then sing it again, please. This time I want to enjoy it!"

THOSE TROUBLE-MAKING CHINESE

From Japanese-American Review

Why does Japan fight China?

Japan fights China because she has been ruining her by "Hate Japan" education and propaganda, which has been carried on continuously for many years, and because she has been conniving with Soviet Russia in spreading Communism, which is the greatest menace to the Orient and to the world as well. Above all, she has provoked and forced Japan to take arms for self-defence.

Better English

Says War Brings Greater Unity

"What we need in Canada today more than anything else is a new and more wholesome approach towards Canadian problems. In late years we have looked at them with a warped perspective. We should look at the past for the lessons it teaches us and if we did we would not be so optimistic in good times or pessimistic in bad times."

This was the message which Donald C. MacDonald brought to the Men's Canadian Club at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday in a talk on "Trends in Canada" and to the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon. Mr. MacDonald is on tour sponsored by the Associates for Anglo-American Understanding, having recently completed a similar speaking tour in Great Britain.

GROWING NATIONAL UNITY

He saw in Canada today a growing national unity, probably hastened by the war and for this nation he predicted a great future if the same unity were put forth in solving domestic problems of peacetime as was evidenced in the current war effort.

He believed action on the recommendations of the Rowell Commission, in the peaceful years which follow the present conflict, would give Canada the economic strength she is seeking, and in these recommendations he foresaw the solution to the many problems which this young country has faced since it was born.

Mr. MacDonald sketched for the clubmen a review of the political and economic strife which Canada has been through, showing always that her troubles lay in racial, political and economical differences. During the trying days of the last decade, which he described as "the frightening thirties," he said the world had experienced anxious times but he felt the trend then and at present was to focus attention too much on the international situation and thus lose sight of local development.

The war he believed would bring to man a unity more quickly than it would have inevitably come in peaceful years.

GREAT CHANGE

The last year, he thought, had seen a great change in the Canadian outlook, adding he believed the Quebec election had done much in proving a turning point. The evidence of this rising Canadian nationalism was evidenced today by the people of Canada facing their local problems on a background of nationalism.

"If this rise in tide that is now on the upswing can be turned in attack on our domestic problems you can rest assured they will be solved," he said.

He was introduced by T. W. S. Parsons, president, and thanked by C. McGrath.

Northwest Unity In Tourist Bid

"When a contractor finds a job that is too big for himself, he generally enlists the aid of other contractors. That is exactly what British Columbia, Washington and Oregon are doing to sell the Pacific Northwest as a package to the traveling United States public," Chapin D. Foster, Washington State publisher, told the annual meeting of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday.

"It was a job too big for an individual state to accomplish, so we—as the Evergreen Play-ground Association—have banded together to build a 'four-lane highway' that will reach every community and hamlet in the United States to the Pacific Northwest, enticing thousands and thousands of tourists to come this way," the speaker declared.

During his talk Mr. Foster, who is a former president of the Washington State Progress Association and holds official positions in several other important organizations in the state and Union, stressed the importance and value of advertising to attract tourist trade.

The remarkable tourist trade enjoyed by California and Florida and other states in the Union, did not happen by accident, he said. It only came about by development, adding huge sums of money had been expended to develop it, California alone setting aside $20,000,000 to advertise its tourist attractions.

A GREAT INDUSTRY

Tourist trade had become a great industry and was being made greater. In the United States it had developed to immense proportions, now being rated as the third largest industry in the country, and expected to reach $6,000,000,000 in 1940. Tourist revenue surpassed the combined total revenue of four big industries in the Union, petroleum, printing and iron and steel.

The value of publicizing tourist attractions had become widely realized in the United States and other countries of the world, Mr. Foster said. Thirty-five states and 300 communities in the Union and 50 different foreign countries were appropriating money for the purpose of inducing tourists to their way.

"Victoria will only get a tourist trade in proportion to what she puts into it. We will only get returns in proportion to what we invest," the publisher said.

Mr. Foster at this point gave the local bureau and Commissioner G. I. Warren a word of praise, noting the annual report submitted at the meeting proved they had done their work well. He said Mr. Warren was probably being conservative in estimating $6,000,000 spent by tourists on Vancouver Island in 1939. It was difficult to trace the individual tourist dollars, he said. It was quite possible the money spent was much in excess of the figure mentioned.

He hoped the joint effort between the province and the two states would continue. "We have a man's outdoors here in the Pacific Northwest, and we are going to reach out and encourage travel in this direction," Mr. Foster declared. "We have lots of natural resources to use as tourist appeal." The speaker reported page ads would be appearing in the next issues of widely-circulated United States magazines.

COMPETITION KEEN

Competition for tourist dollars was the keenest and keenest of any industry. It was a dollar that circulated farther than any other dollar. It was a dollar that created employment and helped business. He said advertising not only brought tourists, but attracted people with money who wanted to settle down and whose purses opened new industry and helped develop the country's natural resources.

Referring to the by-products of the industry, Mr. Foster declared it aided in the making of better citizens, giving them opportunity to know their country better. The international traffic between Canada and the United States created a spirit of friendliness between the two nations.

It was a border, he declared, on which there were no bristling guns or threats made to "keep out." "The world is going to learn a lesson from those 3,000 miles of border. The exchange of visitors between the two countries depicts the friendliness, peace and harmony that can exist between nations," Mr. Foster said in closing.

Harold Husband thanked Mr. Foster for his address on behalf of the members.

W. W. Henry, state commissioner of the Golden Gate Exposition for 1940, brought the good wishes of the State of California and the Exposition to Victoria. He said he hoped arrangements could be made to have B.C. represented at the fair again. "Your province had a fine show there last year," he said.

Ottawa Hears Sailors' Plea For More Pay for Wives

By CROWNANANCHOR

After applauding the Singing Sailors from overseas who have, musically speaking, taken Victoria by storm, Victoria audiences may soon see a show staged by Canadian sailors. Among the men gathering here there is an array of talent including singers, violinists, accordion and mouth organ players, comedians and actors. Rehearsals are being held weekly in the form of amateur nights. From these the best talent will be selected for the first public appearance.

Touching again upon the matter of sailors' pay and allowances an Oak Bay lady writes:

"As an interested citizen with a liking for the senior service, it seems to me that branch of His Majesty's Forces are rather overlooked, especially as the Royal Canadian Navy have been silently at their war stations since England declared war. For instance, why should the wife of a sailor receive only $15 per month marriage allowance and $7.50 for a child whilst a soldier's wife receives $35 per month and $12 per child. An officer's wife in the R.C.N. receives no marriage allowance whilst an army officer's wife is paid according to her husband's rank. One hears so much about what is being done for the army. How about a little consideration for the boys of the Silent Navy."

Since this subject was first mentioned some changes have been made to bring navy allowances for wives and dependents more in line with those of the army but no details are available at the time of writing. It is probable, however, the increased allowances will date back to October, which should bring one of those always welcome surprises for those connected with the services, an extra check for retro-active pay.

LIBERAL LEAVE

Occasional letters from Victorians now overseas repeat earlier reports of the hospitality of the English people to the Canadians. Liberal leave appears to be the rule but the nightly blackouts cut down sightseeing time for those who would see London.

"I've been to London quite a few times but I can't say I have seen much of it yet" writes one Victorian. "We rush around during the few hours it is light, then when the blackout comes we have to spend the rest of the evening trying to find our way back to where we started from. Accommodation is cheap. There are places for soldiers where you can stay for as low as fifty cents a day and they are good places too."

Letters from Canadian airmen to friends in Victoria say some of the young men who left Canada to join the Royal Flying Corps are showing great interest in the progress of the Canadian corps, some with the hope that they may be able to transfer.

One of the best army stories going the rounds this week is of the youthful subaltern who was acting as A.D.C. to his father, the general, and was instructed to

Employment Plans

ALAN CHAMBERS

Explanation of the work of the national youth employment committee, out of which came various government training courses for young men, is expected to figure prominently in the campaign of Alan Chambers, above, for election as Liberal in Nanaimo riding. Mr. Chambers was chairman of the committee from 1936 to 1938 and as such was known as father of the Youth Employment Bill. Under this federal measure $3,000,000 annually was provided for a three-year period to train and help, in conjunction with provincial governments, the unemployed youth of Canada. Mr. Chambers was also one of the four members selected from the western provinces to the National Advisory Council, assisting the Minister of Labor on unemployment problems. Mr. Chambers, who comes from a Sheffield, Yorkshire, family, has been on the island for the last 10 years.

"Please, sir, father says will you spread out your men more to the right?"

The colonel gave him a fiery look, and with a snort, bellowed: "Oh, does he? And what does mother say?"

OLD SOLDIERS HELP NEW

The Canadian Legion War Services Inc. through which old soldiers have earnestly undertaken the task of planning to help men of the present services resume their lives as civilians through its press liaison officer, F. H. Wooding, issues a significant statement:—

"The disturbances of war can, if allowed to go unchecked, impoverish civilization for generations to come," it says. "The experience of the last conflict proved this, for, even though the tumult and the shouting of 1914-1918 have faded there are still visible evidences of the horrible drain it made upon society."

"War today is a different undertaking, from a mental standpoint, at least, than what it was 20 years ago. There is no so-called patriotic flag-waving and band-playing, and Canadians—those who already have seen service and those who have suffered from the aftermath—do not consider it a glorious adventure fraught with thrills and excitement. Young and old, they know the full meaning of the tremendous sacrifices they will be called upon to make."

"They have entered this war because they are good citizens. They have left farms and cities, schools, jobs, homes and security, and they have denied themselves—yes, even those whom society was unable to provide for in peacetime—of their own measures of freedom. They are men whom Canada can ill afford to lose."

"Most of them will come back, just as their fathers and brothers did in 1919. But during the process of winning the war they will undergo terrific strains and mental upheavals. The moral convictions, courage and eagerness that now are theirs will be taxed to the limit. They will find themselves face to face with hardships, sufferings and deprivations that might easily turn them into bitter, distrustful cynics, robbed of their faith in humanity. That is, unless preventative steps are taken."

THE OLD SOLDIERS' DUTY

"Old soldiers, more than anyone else, realize this from experience and it is logical that old soldiers themselves—those no longer suitable for active service because of age or physical disabilities—should feel it their duty as well as their indisputable right to provide for the well-being of those who have accepted the new challenge."

"By means of this great ex-service men's organization, the Canadian Legion, they have, accordingly, volunteered to co-operate actively with the authorities in providing essential services for all branches of the forces—navy, army and air—not only in Canada but in England, France and, in fact, wherever the fortunes of war may take them."

"For this purpose they have created a special non-profit-making body known as the Canadian Legion War Services Incorporated, to which the directorate of auxiliary services of the Canadian Active Service Force has entrusted certain important duties. These duties are provision of (a) educational facilities (b) personal service bureau (c) entertainment (d) subsidiary services of various other types whenever the need arises."

"The Legion realizes, of course, that the primary purpose of the armed forces is to win the war and that all auxiliary services must be provided in such a way as to contribute rather than to distract from this end. Its activities, therefore, both in Canada and abroad, have been planned carefully so as to synchronize with all as constituencies of the army, navy and air force in such a way as to further military efficiency."

Memorial Service Planned Tomorrow

Lieutenant-Governor Hamber, members of the provincial cabinet, mayor and aldermen, members of the active forces and private citizens will join in a special memorial service for the late Lord Tweedsmuir in Christ Church Cathedral tomorrow afternoon at 2.30.

Right Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, will be in charge of the service and will be assisted by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, and Rev. J. L. W. McLean, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Salaries Boost School Budget

Due almost solely to increases in teachers' salaries and increments provided under the new schedule adopted last September, the City School Board will require $7,793 more for its 1940 work than was spent last year.

The current year's estimates were adopted by the trustees last night after $10,814 had been cut from original draft to bring the total requirement within $1,505 of the 1939 estimate.

Net total expenditure for the year is placed at $401,200, the gross figure being $509,183, with revenue estimated at $107,982.

Paring effected by last night's session of the board was due largely to reductions made by the building and grounds committee in its original estimate. This committee cut its first figure by $10,939, adding $2,000 to correct inadequate lighting facilities, making a net reduction of nearly $9,000.

Trustee F. G. Mulliner, chairman of the committee, was thanked by Trustee P. E. George, chairman, for the committee's cooperation, and all members of the board expressed satisfaction over the sizeable reduction made in the original statement of requirement.

The board approved a total of $8,200 extraordinary expenditure by the building and grounds committee for various major projects on school grounds during the year. This allocation will include leveling and grading new playgrounds at South Park School, building a frame annex for an auditorium, for Burnside School and connecting to the present heating system, alterations to the Pemberton gymnasium and construction of an annex and purchase of a furnace for Bank Street School.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD BRIEFS

Silent tribute to the memory of the late Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General, was paid by standing vote of the board members before the meeting opened.

Approval was given a finance committee recommendation authorizing the board secretary to collect rentals for use of the High School gym by basketballers. Rentals will be payable weekly on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

Attendance at city schools last month was 4,819, a decrease of 64 compared with January of last year. It was a 97 increase over the December attendance.

At the suggestion of Trustee Mrs. A. S. Christie the board secretary was instructed to write and ask for the co-operation of the chief of police in preventing high and junior students' riding down Moss Street hill on bicycles without using their hands on the handle-bars. Mrs. Christie referred to the danger of the practice and thought the presence of a police officer there at the noon hour would go far to stopping it.

Burglary insurance to protect the board against the theft of typewriters and moving picture and other portable equipment from the schools was referred to the finance committee for investigation and report.

The llama, vacuna, guanaco and alpaca, all South American animals, are distant cousins of the camel.

Fairfield Choir Prepares Program

The Fairfield United Church Choir will give the second of a series of monthly musical services in the church next Sunday evening. The service will feature famous hymns that have come down through the years and remain the best liked among the congregation.

A string quartette led by Clarion Porter will play groups of hymn arrangements, while Maurice Thomas, tenor, and Miss G. Besheff, contralto, will be the vocal soloists.

Mrs. J. T. Keating and Mrs. E. Woodward will be the soloists in the choral numbers "O How Amiable" and "Hark, Hark My Soul."

Twilight Recital

The well-trained, excellently conducted choir of the Centennial Church pleased a large congregation at the twilight recital Sunday afternoon at First Baptist Church. In a splendidly arranged program, the choir members and the soloists showed understanding of their work and sympathy with all their numbers.

Next Sunday afternoon's recital will be given by the choir of Metropolitan United Church, under conductorship of Frank Tugman, with Edward Parsons at the organ.

J. W. Buckler conducted yesterday and Mrs. Paul Green was at the organ.

Made Trip in Park Named After Him

One of the most memorable experiences of Lord Tweedsmuir's term of office as Governor-General was when he spent two weeks in the wilds of British Columbia, far from civilization. In August, 1937, he was the guest of the British Columbia government, on the personal invitation of Premier Pattullo, on an exploration trip from the Alberta boundary to the Pacific Coast, following the trail of Sir Alexander Mackenzie.

By a remarkable coincidence, Lord Tweedsmuir made the trip in a year in which the figures, 1937, were the same as the year Mackenzie crossed, 1793.

It was for this trip that His Excellency was made a member of the exclusive Explorers' Club of New York. Lady Tweedsmuir wrote of their adventures in the National Geographic Magazine.

Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons made the arrangements and was with the party throughout the tour. Hon. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, spent several days on the tour and members of the B.C. Legislature through whose constituencies the Governor-General passed also spent some time with the party.

The area where the Governor-General spent his vacation has been preserved for the nation and is known as Tweedsmuir National Park.

Maternity Case Used as an Alibi

An emergency maternity case and failure of the police to serve a summons within a week of the offence were accepted in the City Police Court as sound defence in two cases of motorists charged with failing to observe stop signs. Both drivers received suspended sentences.

One man told the court he was driving his truck and changed gears at the stop sign but did not stop because he was carrying an emergency maternity case.

The other claimed he did not have a fair chance to defend himself as he did not receive a summons till February 2 for an offence alleged on January 26. The passage of a week had not enabled him to recall the incident and he could only offer as his defence the fact he had been driving 20 years and always made a practice of observing stop signs.

25 Years Ago

February 13, 1915
LONDON—Emperor Wilhelm received Field Marshal von Hindenburg on the eastern battle-front on Friday, and it was decided to make a renewed dash for Warsaw next week, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK—Much after the manner in which the torpedo boat destroyer was developed after the torpedo boat had become a recognized arm of the navy, so Great Britain is busy preparing a fleet of Zeppelin destroyers, according to a New York arrival from England.

"We have made arrangements with the N.H.A. to draft six players at $500 each, and I feel assured that we will have a club in Seattle next season," was the statement of Manager Frank Patrick to the Times last night with regard to future plans of the F.C.H.A.

In view of an early departure of the 30th Battalion there was a farewell concert in honor of the men given in the Y.M.C.A. building at the Willows last evening. At this the secretary, J. G. Yates, presided, and the building was filled with an appreciative audience.

ANCIENT INK GOOD

LONDON — Old Testament letter writers used good ink. It is learned from a chemical test of the famous Lachish letters, historic wartime documents of the day of Prophet Jeremiah.

The test made by Alkin Lewis off King's College reveals that Jews of the sixth century B.C. wrote with ink made of iron and carbon mixed. The better preserved writing is richer in iron, and the more eroded characters are primarily carbon. Mr. Lewis reports to the British journal Nature.

Most people have heretofore believed that iron did not displace carbon inks until the Middle Ages. Mr. Lewis states: The important early Bible known as the Codex Sinaiticus is pronounced by the chemist a good example of carbon-free brown ink.

Constitutional History Reviewed

J. Pitcairn Hogg, K.C., Gives Talk to Business Women

Constitutional history was reviewed in the able and interesting address enjoyed by the Business and Professional Women's Club at its dinner meeting held in the Hotel Douglas last evening. The speaker was Mr. J. Pitcairn Hogg, K.C., legislative counsel for the provincial government.

Taking as his timely subject the duties of a Governor-General of Canada and the part he plays in the constitution of Canada and the duties pertaining to his office, Mr. Hogg took occasion to pay tribute to Lord Tweedsmuir and to quote Prime Minister Mackenzie King's eulogy of the late Governor-General.

"His experience, joined with his knowledge of history and his intuitive appreciation of the nature of free British institutions, had equipped him ideally as the direct constitutional Canadian representative of His Majesty the King. From the correct conception of that high office he never departed in thought, word, act or deed."

The distinctive functions of Parliament, the cabinet and the crown, as represented in Canada by the Governor-General, were defined by Mr. Hogg, and he cited instances from Canadian and British history to illustrate his point that, under abnormal circumstances, the interpretation of the relation of their respective powers could change the whole course of history.

Open house will be held on February 20, and Friday, February 23, will be International Night, when the members will meet at the home of Miss Margaret Clay, Linden Avenue, Canadian president of the Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The speaker will be Frau Meta Kraus-Fessel, a refugee from Germany.

Mrs. A. Harold Lord, the president, was in the chair. Miss Carol Menzies sang with much charm, "A Song of Gladness" (Speaks) and "Coming Home" (Wiloughby), accompanied at the piano by Miss Bessie Crowther.

ENGAGEMENTS

WORTHINGTON-GILMORE

LONDON (CP Cable)—Henry Worthington, actor son of Alderman John A. Worthington, and Mrs. Worthington of Victoria, last night announced his engagement to Miss Matty Gilmore, 24, Irish stage manager at the St. James' Theatre. Date of the wedding has not been fixed.

At times, sound is so attracted by a rising column of air that two persons speaking on opposite sides of it will be unable to hear one another talk.

Weddings

KIRCHIN-BLAIS

The marriage took place recently at Ottawa, Ont., of Miss Marie-Therese Blais, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Blais of Ottawa, to Sergeant Clarence Gordon Kirchin, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kirchin of 563 David Street, Victoria.

HEDLEY-O'NEIL

ALBURNI—A wedding of interest took place yesterday morning at 10.30 when Phyllis Elizabeth O'Neil of Duncan, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Neil, former pioneer residents of Port Alberni, became the bride of Mr. Norman A. L. Hedley of Duncan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. M. Hedley of Port Alberni. Rev. Glen Stevenson officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Elmore Hart of Chemainus, wore a frock of silk gabardine in shades of roses tone and a Watteau hat in sapphire blue, the crown covered with gardenias in shades of roses velvet with veil in blue and rose. She carried a shower bouquet of rose carnations.

Miss Denise Thompson of Pembroke Street, Victoria, was bridesmaid, gown in claret wool crepe with small hat in moss green straw and black accessories; her bouquet composed of pink and white carnations. Mr. Warren Savage of Duncan supported the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bridegroom's parents at Port Alberni. Mrs. Hedley Sr., wearing a gown of wine-colored silk crepe, received the guests. Daffodils were used in the reception rooms and on the bride's table, which was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake. For the wedding trip to Puget Sound the bride donned a black sealskin topcoat over her wedding ensemble. On their return they will take up residence at Duncan.

Out-of-town guests present at the ceremony included Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. Macdougall and Miss Denise Thompson of Victoria, Mrs. G. H. Savage, Mr. Warren Savage, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hart, Mrs. F. C. Hart, Mrs. P. Quetch and Mr. Elmore Hart, Chemainus.

Spinsters' Ball Nets $351 for Hospital

The Spinsters' ball netted the sum of $351 for the Junior Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital, it was reported by the convener, Mrs. Norma Hood, at the monthly meeting held last night in the Nurses' Home. The affair was most successful and appreciation for the splendid work of the committee was expressed by the president, Miss Rhoda Goward.

Mrs. George Fatt, convener, gave a report on the work being done. Since the last meeting, 24 pillow slips, 12 abdominal bandages and 12 triangular bandages have been completed and turned in. After the meeting, Mrs. Fatt distributed additional sewing material. The knitters will meet at the home of Mrs. Fatt next Monday evening.

Mrs. T. H. Woolson, convener of the contest for the $25 scrip, gave a report and distributed tickets. Miss Goward asked the members to collect magazines, books and games for the soldiers and to bring their bundles to the next meeting.

At the conclusion of the evening, the white elephant sale took place with Mrs. Clyde Savage as auctioneer. A considerable sum was realized and will go in the general fund.

Postpone Jubilee Valentine Bridge

Out of respect to the memory of the late Lord Tweedsmuir, the Valentine bridge party arranged by the Junior Women's Auxiliary of the Royal Jubilee Hospital has been postponed until Wednesday, February 28.

This was decided at a special executive meeting held last evening at the home of the president, Miss Vida Shandley, Beach Drive. Over 70 reservations for afternoon and evening play have already been received, and this will remain as arranged unless players notify the general convener, Mrs. M. R. Caverhill.

GUIDE MOURNING

Mrs. Alan Morkin, Provincial Guide Commissioner, this morning received a telegram from the National Guide headquarters, Toronto, announcing that Guides are requested to wear official mourning bands for the late Lord Tweedsmuir for four weeks. The wearing of mourning band is optional for Guides and Brownies.

To give the instrument greater volume in dance bands, use of the pick in playing the guitar came into favor in 1920.

EVERYBODY FIGHTS IN FINLAND—There are no stay-at-homes in the Finnish war. The wife and daughter, above, of Gen. Lennart Oesch, chief of staff of the Finnish army, are both in service. Mrs. Oesch is a member of the women's Lotta Svard group, and her daughter is an army departmental phone operator.

Commander K. Mackenzie-Grieve, Island Road, who have been spending the last month in Southern California, have returned home.

After spending a few days in Vancouver with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ellis, Capt. W. Ellis, Beach Drive, returned home yesterday morning.

Mrs. G. C. Jones, Rockland Avenue, will go over to Vancouver tomorrow afternoon to visit her mother, Mrs. Fordham Johnson until Saturday, when she will leave on a trip to eastern Canada.

Miss Edna Morris of Ganges Harbor has been spending a few days in Victoria the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morris, Richardson Street.

Mrs. A. S. Campbell of Vancouver, who has been spending the last week in Victoria as the guest of Major and Mrs. John Patterson-Simon, Esquimalt, returned home this afternoon.

Mrs. Roger G. Phillips of Vancouver is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips, 150 Croft Street. She will attend the wedding of her sister, Miss Irene MacAdams, to Mr. Cyril Warren, which will take place in Duncan next Saturday.

Last evening at their home at Cadboro Bay Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kershaw entertained at a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Herriott of Vancouver, who are visiting in Victoria on their honeymoon. Mrs. Herriott was formerly Miss Jean Dawson of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan M. Robertson, St. David Street, returned to Victoria yesterday after spending the weekend in Vancouver as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rogers, "The Knole." They were accompanied on their return by Mrs. T. K. Laidlaw of Vancouver, who will be their guests for a few days.

Mrs. Leonard Andrews of Vancouver, the former Jean Tolmie of Victoria, is being much feted in the mainland city on the eve of her departure for Ottawa, where she and her husband, Major L. R. Andrews, will make their home. Mrs. Tucker Battle was a luncheon hostess over the weekend for Mrs. Andrews, and yesterday Mrs. D'Oyly Rochfort gave a tea for her, when Mrs. Guy Rothwell, Mrs. S. Cawley, Mrs. Chaytor Payne and Miss Nora Nedden were asked to pour.

On Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Storey, 1036 Kings Road, a surprise party was given in honor of their returning to the city to take up residence after an absence of several years. Besides the guests of honor, the invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Hodgkinson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Strange, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Storey Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. Atkinson, Miss Ruby Atkinson, Gordon and Russell Atkinson. Cards and parlor games were enjoyed, after which the guests sat down to supper served by Mrs. C. Storey Jr., and Mrs. Hodgkinson. The decorative motif included Valentine favors and daffodils combined with Japanese plumblossoms.

Miss Elizabeth Lindgren, Moss Street, has gone over to Vancouver to be the guest of Mrs. Chas. Foster Corbett.

Mrs. James Morkin, Cook Street, who has been visiting in Vancouver with Mrs. Melita Aitken, has returned home.

This afternoon at her home on Heath Street, Mrs. Pat Parr entertained a few guests at the tea hour in compliment to Miss Elsie Cobbett, who is to be married shortly to Capt. Lawrence Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Svarich of Vegreville, Alberta, who were in Victoria for the Frisby-Svarich wedding, have returned to Vancouver, where they will spend some time before returning to their home on the prairies. Dr. Eugene Svarich, who was also here for the wedding, will remain here for a short time as the guest of friends. Mrs. T. G. Frisby of Vancouver, who came over for the wedding, will spend a few weeks with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Frisby, Wellington Avenue.

Alderman and Mrs. J. A. Worthington entertained at a dinner party at the Union Club last evening in honor of Dr. G. F. Amyot, recently-appointed secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, and Mrs. Amyot, when the other guests included: Brigadier and Mrs. C. V. Stockwell, Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. A. Llewellyn Jones, Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Walker, Dr. and Mrs. J. McCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Drury, Air Commodore A. E. Godfrey and Mrs. Godfrey, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Murray Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Felton, Alderman and Mrs. Stanley O'Keefe and Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Gayton.

All the fun of the fair was enjoyed by about 150 guests who attended the "Games Night" party held last evening by the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae in the Nurses' Home. Mrs. J. H. Russell, the alumnae president, welcomed the guests, who joined enthusiastically in such games as Bingo, Klondike, putting, darts, a shooting gallery, Chinese checkers as well as bridge. There was a refreshment and "hot dog" stand which proved specially popular with the student nurses and their friends. Assisting on the committee of the party, which was in aid of the alumnae ward, were Mrs. M. McConnell, Mrs. Van Horne, Mrs. R. Hawkes, Misses Rossiter, Doris Hibberson, Heller, L. Colwell, Plunkett and L. Fraser.

Large Valentine hearts, combined with greenery, pussy willow and spring flowers, were used in decoration of the Shrine auditorium last evening when the Victoria Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held a successful Valentine dance. About 200 guests attended the party and were received by Mrs. A. G. Carmichael, worthy matron, assisted by Miss Moya Bailey, associate matron. Mrs. J. Matheson was the general convener and was assisted by Mrs. John Grant and Mrs. Hammett. Bridge was enjoyed by the non-dancers with Mrs. Alfred Hourston in charge, and a sit-down supper was served in the banquet hall, where the table decorations were carried out in the Valentine motif and foliage. Mrs. Ford convenered the refreshments with the assistance of Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. John Hunter.

DIED AT CUMBERLAND—Mary Le-nore Tarbell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Tarbell, died Sunday, after a long illness. She was a native of Knowlton, Quebec, and came to Cumberland 45 years ago, with her parents. She became identified with her father and brother in the operation of C. H. Tarbell & Son, hardware merchants. A prominent churchwoman, she was identified with the Cumberland Anglican Church. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Jack Bryden of Victoria, and one brother, George, of Cumberland.

Esquimalt I.O.D.E. Review Many Activities

A year of progress and accomplishment was revealed in the annual reports of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E. at the annual meeting held last night at headquarters. Mrs. J. T. Jones, the regent, who presided, was re-elected by acclamation, other officers chosen being:

Mrs. G. C. Jones, first vice-regent; Mrs. E. W. Mackenzie-Grieve, second vice-regent; Mrs. C. H. Cross, secretary; Mrs. Warren Smith, treasurer; Mrs. S. G. Angwin, Echoes secretary; Mrs. H. Cresine, educational secretary; Mrs. J. Quinn, standard bearer. Lady Barnard is again the chapter's honorary regent.

The secretary's report gave a resume of the various undertakings. Expenditures amounted to $565.40, it was shown in the treasurer's report presented by Mrs. Warren Smith. Money was voted for purchasing "Canada Within the Empire," runner-up prize for Lampson Street School; purchase of the Union Jack for flag staff at Memorial Park, Esquimalt; $60 to child and family welfare; gifts for children at the Solarium; $2 to Mary Croft Cot at Solarium; Christmas cheer; Tubercular Veterans; Boy Scouts, $12; wool for soldier's socks, etc., $25.29. A bank balance of $217.52 was reported.

VARIED ACTIVITIES

Mrs. G. Sisman, child welfare convener, told of gifts to the chapter's three "adopted" children at the Solarium, and $25 voted to the milk fund of Lampson Street school; Mrs. H. E. B. Cresine reported for Girl Guides; Mrs. M. Ryley, for film committee; Mrs. J. Quinn told of 40 graves of ex-service men decorated at various times, also flowers placed on the altar and war memorials in the Garrison Church. Mrs. Quinn also reported as standard bearer.

Mrs. W. Barclay, educational secretary, reported that during past year the chapter had assisted in education to extent of $139.50, also gave a runner-up prize to pupil at High School and a beautifully illuminated card; 64 calendars were sold and several donated. Mrs. J. Mason reported for the Navy League.

Mrs. Kyrle Symons, Municipal Chapter; Mrs. F. F. Beckett, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps and Mrs. R. Shanks all spoke briefly and congratulated the chapter on its work. Bouquets of spring flowers were presented to Mrs. Symons, and to Mrs. McMillen, who was unable to be present. Mrs. J. T. Jones received a corsage bouquet.

As a tribute to the late Governor-General of Canada, the chapter stood in silence at the beginning of the meeting.

The sum of $1 was voted to wards cigarettes for visiting sailors.

Tea was served after the meeting, the table being covered with a lace cloth and centred with red tulips.

Women Organize to Help Canteen

Three Services W.A. Is Headed by Miss Violet Wilson

An important and necessary phase of war work will be undertaken by the group of women who met at the Y.W.C.A. yesterday morning and organized what is to be known as the "Three Services W.A." for the purpose of co-operating with the Salvation Army in the running of a dry canteen for the soldiers, sailors and air force, or to assist with any other canteen, should the need arise.

Miss Violet Wilson, who acted as chairman, explained that the Salvation Army had offered to put the Duck Block, Broad Street, into repair for the purpose of a canteen, and would also undertake certain fundamental matters in connection with food supplies, etc., if the women of Victoria would co-operate with the furnishing and operation of the canteen.

About 30 women were present at the meeting and unanimously supported the motion of Miss Sara Spencer, seconded by Mrs. H. Beaven, to undertake the work, and organization of the auxiliary was proceeded with, the following officers being elected:

President, Miss Violet Wilson; secretary, Miss Gladys Irving; treasurer, Miss Sara Spencer; convener of furnishing and purchasing, Mrs. J. W. Lennox; library convener, Mrs. E. W. Abraham; games equipment, Mrs. Irene Baird; entertainment, Mrs. Carew Martin; canteen, Mrs. L. Walsh; canteen personnel, Miss Elizabeth Martin.

The auxiliary will act as a committee of the whole in working on the plan for financing, and the public will be fully informed in due course concerning a project for securing necessary furnishing and other equipment.

So you dare not drink Coffee!

KOFY SUB

RICHER IN IRON than anything known to me

With Lemon Flavour

OVER 500,000 COPIES SOLD

IF YOU cannot drink coffee or tea because your nerves or digestion are disturbed, test a package of Dr. Jackson's Kofy-Sub—and make a welcome discovery. Kofy-Sub is so like real coffee in flavour and aroma that you cannot tell the difference. It is made from wholesome Canadian grains, soy beans and honey—and contains no caffeine or other drug stimulant or depressant. Rich in body-building, alkaline minerals, especially blood-making iron! And low in cost! Enjoy Kofy-Sub every day. Give it to your children. It's good for them. Drink it freely as water. It can do good only. Delicious!

FREE! Dr. Jackson's booklet on Food and Health. Address requests to Dr. Jackson Foods Limited, 577 Vine Avenue, Toronto.

Women's Council Plans Annual Meeting

Final arrangements for the annual meeting to be held on Wednesday, February 21, and Thursday, February 22, were made at the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women yesterday afternoon. Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, was in the chair.

Speakers at the annual meeting, to be held at the S.O.E. Hall, Broad Street, will include Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial archivist and librarian, whose topic at the Wednesday afternoon session will be "Books at the Crossroads" and on Thursday afternoon Dr. G. F. Amyot, newly-appointed provincial health officer, who will speak on "The People and Public Health."

Election of officers will take place at the Wednesday morning session, and Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, urged members to attend in full force and vote. The usual three-minute reports will be made by representatives of the various affiliated societies, and conveners of standing committees will be given up to eight minutes. Mrs. Bertha Parsons is convening the tea arrangements, and Mrs. Allon Peebles the musical detail for each day.

On Tuesday, March 11, at 2.30, Dr. Kincaid will show an educational film on "Tuberculosis, Its Treatment and Prevention," under the auspices of the Local Council of Women. Every affiliated society was urged to support this educational feature, which will also be open to anyone interested. The place will be announced later.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

The annual meeting of the provincial council will be held at Chilliwack on Thursday, April 4. Among the resolutions to be considered at that meeting was one to the effect that "We the Vancouver Local Council of Women request that the age limit of children whose mothers are receiving mothers' pensions be raised to 18 years, providing the children are attending school."

The resolution was defeated. In the discussion it was pointed out that such a step would cost British Columbia an additional $100,000 annually, and also that mothers' pensions are already the most generous of any of the B.C. pension groups, as well as being the highest in Canada.

The council will assist the Remembrance Day committee with its tag day for Finland on March 16.

Dr. Jardine read from the abstract of the minutes of the National Council executive meeting at Ottawa on January 19 some of the resolutions of special local interest, one favoring the grading of federal tax on tea, coffee and tobacco; another an emergency wartime measure restricting manufacture and importation of beverage alcohol.

Mrs. Fleming, treasurer, reported that the recent bridge tea had netted the sum of $44 for the convention fund, which now totals $74.75. Dr. Jardine thanked all who had supported the bridge, and a special vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Bertha Parsons for her work in convening the tea.

At the opening of the meeting the members stood in silent tribute to the late Governor-General's memory.

New Group to Work For Coast Defenders

An informal meeting was held recently at the home of Mrs. H. L. Sherwood, Work Point Baracks, and "Apascoe" was formed. The name of this band of workers was coined from initials of the following unit names: Royal Canadian Artillery, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps, Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps and Royal Canadian Engineers. They plan to raise a fund to provide comforts for the men on the coast defences and in lonely outposts and to aid their families if and when necessary.

The following were elected by acclamation to the executive board of "Apascoe": Honorary president, Mrs. C. V. Stockwell; president, Mrs. H. L. Sherwood; first vice-president, Mrs. A. M. Clarke; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Nelson Gibson; secretary, Mrs. N. C. Silburn; treasurer, Mrs. M. Wright.

Plans are being completed to hold a money tea at the home of Brigadier and Mrs. C. V. Stockwell, at a date to be announced shortly. Mrs. G. R. Stuart is in charge of the invitation list and Mesdames D. Simpson and K. Elliott are convening the food table for that event.

Dr. J. A. Amyot Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. J. A. Amyot, 72, former deputy minister of health for Canada, died here today after a lengthy illness.

A native of Toronto and descendant of a distinguished French family which came to Canada four centuries ago, he was educated in Toronto and graduated in medicine from the University of Toronto in 1891, later becoming house surgeon in the Toronto General Hospital, and after that joining the staff of Toronto University as demonstrator in pathology.

He retired as deputy minister of health for Canada in 1933, due to failing health.

He was a leader in preventive medicine and sanitation, and was almost as well known in the United States as in his native Canada, having done noteworthy work in 1912 and 1913 in investigating pollution of the Great Lakes as a member of the International Joint Commission.

He took a leading part in introducing into Canada the filtration and chlorination of water and the pasteurization of milk, decreasing materially, according to medical men, the number of deaths from typhoid in Canada.

It was Dr. Amyot who as a young man established in Toronto the first public health diagnostic laboratory in North America under the provincial board of health in Ontario.

Dr. Amyot went to England with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1915 as a member of the staff of No. 4 General Hospital, University of Toronto, and won immediate recognition.

His achievements won for him successively posts of officer commanding, sanitary section, Second Canadian Divisional area in England; first Canadian Division in France; adviser in sanitation, Canadian Corps in France, 1918, and later, in 1918-19, the post of consultant in sanitation, Canadian overseas forces.

He became deputy health minister in 1919 and under his supervision the department was organized and the co-operation of provincial and local health authorities in Canada was secured.

His wife predeceased him. One of his three sons, Frank, of Ottawa, won the Dominion paddling championship in 1928, 1929 and 1932.

VICTORIAN WRITES MYSTERY FOR CBC

A new 13-week dramatic serial, "Murder at Mr. Garcia's," and written by a Victoria girl, Reby Edmond, will be presented over the CBC network from the Vancouver studios, starting next Friday night at 9.30.

Miss Edmond has written plays for United States radio programs, but this is her first attempt for the CBC. She has written for the Times under the name of Reby Macdonald, and is well known in this district as a journalist and authoress.

The radio series, which will be produced by Andrew Allen, is a mystery in more ways than one, because the producer does not know how the mystery is solved because the final scripts are still in the hand of the authoress.

Manion to Speak on Air

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — Conservative Leader R. J. Manion will broadcast over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation from Brandon, Man., Friday from 7.30 to 8 p.m., P.S.T.

Dr. Manion announced this broadcast as substitute for one scheduled for tonight, which was postponed because of the death of the Governor-General.

Radio Men Wanted

LONDON (CP) — The Royal Air Force has issued a call for wireless technicians. They are required for maintenance, control and installation of technical apparatus, not requiring knowledge of Morse. Their main job will be servicing apparatus. A number of signal officers, who have university degrees in science, also are called for.

Soldiers to Vote in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — Enlisted men still in Alberta will be given an opportunity to vote in the coming general election, but "it would be practically impossible to take the vote of those soldiers who have left the province," according to Premier Aberhart.

The Premier told the Legislature a measure would be submitted to the Legislature giving a voting opportunity to soldiers still in the province.

Gerald O'Connor, Liberal, Edmonton, protested soldiers overseas would be disfranchised because of "trifling difficulties," but Mr. Aberhart said the member "surely knows" the difficulties of taking a provincial vote in England were not trifling.

ESQUIMALT SEEKS LOAN OF $40,000

The Esquimalt Council last night heard first and second readings of the annual loan by-law of the municipality which this year will be for $40,000 from the Bank of Montreal at 4 per cent interest, the amount to be paid by the end of June, 1940.

The municipal clerk was instructed to communicate with Saanich and Oak Bay to see what interest rates they had been given.

A letter from Father A. B. W. Wood of the Queen of Peace Church asking that brush near the church be cleaned out, was referred to the chairman of works.

Two pieces of property were sold. One was to K. Hensworth on Wollaston Street for $75 and the second was to E. Hickman on Esquimalt Road for $175.

A supplementary route for a unified Greater Victoria transportation system was chosen to be forwarded to G. H. Sedger, municipal solicitor for presentation to the Greater Victoria Transportation Committee.

The route, which is in addition to the main one on Esquimalt Road, will start at the northern boundary of the municipality on Admirals Road. The route would follow Admirals Road to Lyall Street to Fraser Street to Bewdley Avenue to Peters Street to Lyall Street to the military barracks to Dunsmuir Street to Esquimalt Road.

The council stood in silent tribute to the memory of the late Governor-General Tweedsmuir.

ESQUIMALT RENEWS DRIVES FOR GRANT

A Dominion Government $15,000 grant to Esquimalt was again the subject of much discussion by the municipal council last night as the result of a request by John Dean for particulars of all lands owned, held or appropriated by the Dominion or Provincial governments in the district.

Mr. Dean did not state what he intended to do with the information, but Councillor Frederick Eaton said that he understood it was Mr. Dean's intention to have a map of Greater Victoria made with government-owned property clearly shown.

"I think we should co-operate with Mr. Dean by granting this request," Councillor Eaton said. Reeve Alex Lockley said that the information Mr. Dean requested was already in the hands of the proper government department. The reeve gave a lengthy account of communications made with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in connection with the procuring of a grant from the Dominion government. He spoke well of Mr. Mayhew's efforts in this connection.

"I don't want to belittle any member who has represented us at Ottawa," Councillor Eaton said, "but the point is that we still haven't got a grant. If someone comes along and wants to try to further our efforts I don't think we should stand in his way."

Councillor Eaton said that Conservative officials would be approached on the matter to see if they would stand behind the request for a grant and to see what they might offer as a solution.

Councillor Albert Heald was against the request by Mr. Dean. "We have covered all that can be done," he said, and mentioned some of the work that had been done in past years.

"We must not make a political issue out of the matter," the councillor said.

Councillor G. R. Guillemaud moved that Mr. Dean be invited to study the communications to Ottawa pertaining to the matter in order that he might see what had been done. Councillor Heald seconded the motion.

Councillor Eaton made an amendment to the motion that Mr. Dean be given the information he desired at his own expense, the reeve earlier in the discussion having pointed out the great work that would be required to collect the data Mr. Dean wanted.

The reeve replied that that was not an amendment. "It is negative to the motion," the reeve said, but Councillor Heald argued that it was not negative and should be put before the meeting. The reeve did so, but the rest of the council remained silent.

BLOOD PHOTOGRAPHS

BRNO, Czechoslovakia. — Blood instead of an emulsion of a silver salt is used in making photographs in the laboratory of Prof. O. Richter of the German Technical College here. Prof. Richter soaks filter paper in blood, preferably pig's blood. When dried, the paper is exposed in the usual way under a photographic negative. Exposure time must be long; seven hours under full summer sunlight is typical. Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) solution is used as developer.

Sergt. Tweedhope Called By Death

Members of the British Columbia Provincial Police Force this week mourned the loss of one of the department's most popular officers, Sergt. Daniel Oliver Tweedhope, who died during the week-end in the Courtenay Hospital.

Sergt. Tweedhope passed away after a lengthy illness which had confined him to bed in recent weeks. Funeral services were held this morning at Courtenay.

Sergt. Tweedhope, or "Danno" as he was known to hundreds on Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands, enjoyed a reputation that was the envy of many a man in uniform.

In his 51st year, Sergt. Tweedhope had been with the Provincial Police since September, 1926, when he was taken on as a probationer. In April, 1934, he was made an acting corporal, and two years later this appointment was confirmed. On July 1, 1937, he was made a sergeant, and as such served as N.C.O. in charge of the Courtenay detachment.

During the Campbell River fire of 1938 he distinguished himself on many occasions as he fought long hours without sleep to assist those whose homes were threatened or destroyed, and many of his friends believe it was the strain of this work which brought on his recent illness.

Twice during his career with the department he was mentioned in general orders for meritorious conduct. Before going to Courtenay he was stationed at Ganges and Duncan. At the former town he was in charge of the P.M.L. 6, the police launch which patrols the Gulf Islands, and while aboard this vessel he took part in many exciting rescues at sea, as he figured prominently in saving stranded fishermen or pleasure parties.

He is survived by his wife and four children, two boys and two girls, all at Courtenay.

Brigadier Brown Named President

Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O., of Victoria, was re-elected by acclamation president of the British Columbia Command of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada at the annual meeting held at the Central Park Unit, Saturday.

The following vice-presidents were selected: First, Comrade George Tucker of South Vancouver; second, Alderman E. Jamson of Ladysmith; third, Comrade Percy Sanford of South Vancouver; fourth, T. A. Morris of New Westminster; Rev. Glen Stevenson of Alberni was named chaplain, and Major J. Eades Ward, secretary.

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

BASKETBALL fans have often wondered just what the Dominos would do without the services of those two great veterans, the Chapman brothers, Art and Chuck. After all, these lone remaining originals of the club will eventually have to hang up their playing togs and bow to the old gent with the scythe. Saturday night at the Willows Sports Centre against the touring House of David this question was answered when the Victoria champions, without Art and Chuck in the line-up, carried the visitors to three overtime periods before going under.

As a matter of fact it was valuable experience for the other members of the team. It made all the lads get out and hustle as they realized the going would be tough without Chuck's great strength on the backcourt and Art's driving power up front. A bouquet must be handed to Roy Taylor for the exhibition he turned in at centre. Given the tough task of checking the skyscraper Art Stoelting, Taylor played one of the best games of his career. Despite his big handicap in size Roy held his giant check to two points and went all out for the full 40 minutes.

Dominos face a busy time during the next 10 days. Tomorrow they pack their togs for a rush trip to Seattle to meet the S. L. Savidge stars in a return exhibition in the evening. Friday and Saturday the champions will oppose the brilliant and colorful Broadway Clowns at the Willows and the following Wednesday will journey to Nanaimo to engage the Clowns in a charity engagement for the benefit of the Solum children.

Track fans of North America will see a great little runner with a world of color and personality in action when Taisto Maki opens his campaign on behalf of the Finnish Relief Fund. The newest Flying Finn is the smallest sort. At 5 feet 7 inches, he is two inches shorter than Paavo Nurmi, his idol, and whose records he cracked. When he struck his peak last summer he scaled 136 pounds, or eight less than the Nurmi of 1925. Nurmi is accompanying Maki on his tour as trainer and manager.

His running two miles in 8.52.2, three in 13.42.3, 5,000 metres in 14.08.8, six miles in 28.55.6 and 10,000 metres in 29.52.2 in 1939 gives you a rough idea of how good he is. Nurmi pegged him for an outstanding mile prospect when he first saw him pick 'em up and lay 'em down eight years ago, but Maki quickly showed his liking for the longer routes. Maki believes he can beat 8.50 for two miles. He has yet to be timed at a mile, but considers it too short for him, despite the fact that he has clocked 1,500 metres in 3.53.4... the equivalent of a 4.11 or 4.12 mile.

Nurmi is 42 now, his hair thinner, and he has been away from the wars for a half dozen years, yet he is only eight pounds above his best competitive weight, and claims that with only a little conditioning he could turn in a 4.25 mile and a 9.15 two-mile. This the taciturn Nurmi is willing and may be asked to do, for his appearance in an exhibition with Joe Ray, his foremost mile competitor of 15 years ago, would add to the attractiveness of any Maki appearance. Ray, who in 1925 held jointly with Nurmi the indoor mile mark of 4.12, sends word from Gary, Ind., that he could easily whip himself into shape for another meeting with his old rival. The one-time Chesty Joe lives on a little farm outside of Gary and is employed in a steel mill there.

Steenbock Found Way to Spread Sunshine

A few days ago I had a talk with the scientist who has done more than anyone else to spread the use of Vitamin D. He is Prof. Harry Steenbock of the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Harry Steenbock

Born in a Wisconsin village 53 years ago, he finished high school at the age of 15, and a year later entered the state university in Madison. After graduating he studied at Yale and the University of Berlin, but soon returned to Wisconsin as a teacher and research worker.

I asked Professor Steenbock many questions about his early work, and he told me how his study of Vitamin A led him on to the field of Vitamin D.

In 1919 a German scientist proved that the disease called "rickets" could be cured with a machine which gave out ultra-violet rays. This was important, since millions of children in Europe, and many older persons as well, were suffering with rickets at the time.

Yet the ultra-violet machines were not to be the last answer to the problem. They were somewhat costly, and there was danger from them if they were not in expert hands.

The idea came to Steenbock, "Why not turn ultra-violet rays on food and see whether the eating of that food will cure rickets?"

The idea brought about test after test. An Alpine sun lamp was turned on chopped liver, and the liver was fed to white rats which had rickets. It worked! The rats became well! They were obtaining Vitamin D from food which had been exposed to ultra-violet rays. An important power of sunshine had been stored up! More tests were made. The Alpine sun lamp was turned on olive oil, and it stored up the ultra-violet rays. A mighty secret had been discovered, a secret which was to mean a far better supply of Vitamin D for the human race.

The "Steenbock process" came to be known far and wide, and today it is used by hundreds of companies under a license. Many dairies sell fresh Vitamin D milk to their customers, and milk canneries turn out millions of cans of evaporated milk containing Vitamin D.

Vitamin D bread and breakfast foods also have appeared on the market. A way has been found to put the vitamin in milk powder, and also in malted milk. This "sunshine vitamin" is much needed for good bones, good teeth and good health. Nature has put a good supply of Vitamin D in only one ordinary food—eggs.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, February 14

On this Saint Valentine's Day Venus smiles upon the planet Earth. Benefic aspects dominate strongly. It is a day of opportunities, auspicious for meeting strangers of opposite sex, helpful not only to young folk, but to the elders. Widows should be fortunate under this sway.

Under this configuration household duties become a pleasant pastime. It is a day when mental vision reveals only the best traits of human nature and obscures the ignoble. Under the sway sudden romances blossom into lucky engagements. There is good luck for hospitalities and entertainments of many sorts. The stars should profit.

There is promise for those who launch new enterprises today. Merchants should profit through expansion or changed methods. There is a sign of promise for shipbuilding and for construction of airplanes in which novel inventions will be installed.

Public institutions will come under investigation as the system of treating criminals is assailed by reformers critical of many modern methods of dealing with lawbreakers. Sweeping improvements in the care of those who are unfortunate will be advocated.

After temporary eclipse the League of Nations is again to command attention. Peace gestures will be many, but the stars warn of treachery and counsel

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am married to a fine girl who is pretty and neat and thrifty, but who knows nothing whatever of house-keeping and cooking and doesn't even try to learn. She is an only girl in a family of three children and is spoiled to death. She is wilful, selfish and self-centred, and is driving me beyond despair. She is easily influenced by outsiders and gets herself into jams that I have a lot of trouble to get her out of. Yet she has an intelligent mind when she wants to use it. Is there any tactful way of bringing about a much-needed change in her?

DESPAIRING HUSBAND.

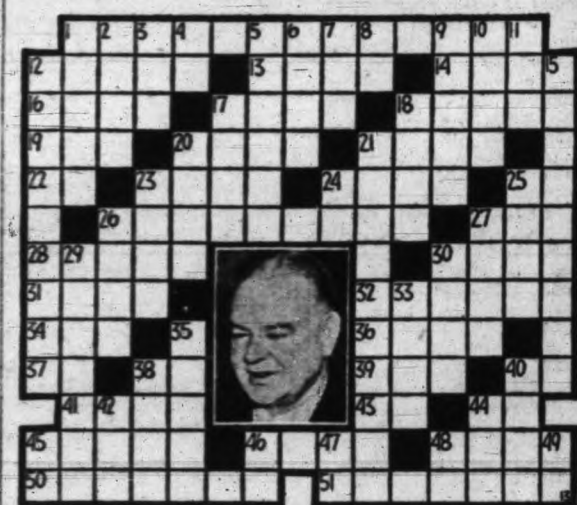

Answer: A man makes no choice of a wife that is a worse bet than when he marries a Mama's spoiled baby girl. For it is practically impossible for him to undo the work that Mother has been toiling at for 18 or 20 years.

Mother has taught the girl from her infancy up that she was the centre of the universe and that all must spend their time kowtowing before her. Mother has bred selfishness and egotism into her very bones. Mother has seen to it that she had the best of everything, no matter how many sacrifices the remainder of the family had to make. Mother has never taught her to cook or sew or do anything that is useful, and when such a girl gets married she expects her husband to go on treating her just the way Mother treated her.

She doesn't know how to cook, or make a comfortable home, or to save money, or to consider her husband in any way, and when she finds out that her husband expects her to act like an adult human being she turns crybaby and generally goes back to Mother.

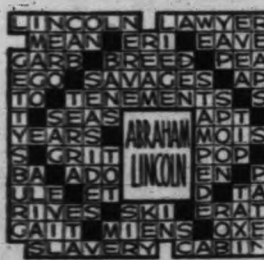

DOROTHY DIX.

R. M. Lochhead Is Credit President

Ronald M. Lochhead was elected president of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association at the annual meeting held today in Spencer's dining-room. He succeeds Leonard W. Cox.

In addition to the new president, the following comprise the executive committee: O. M. Prentice, L. Evenden, A. Simpkins, Walter Fletcher, Victor Gill, G. A. A. Hedden, George Robinson, H. J. Shepherd and L. Cox. The vice-president will be named by Mr. Lochhead.

In his annual report, Mr. Cox said he felt assured the association had consistently kept in mind the objectives for which it was formed, namely, the education of members in sound credit procedure and the education of the public to realize the importance of a good credit record.

To that end program of an educational nature was held weekly throughout the year, including lectures and discussions on the practical application of sound business and credit extension methods. The local association maintained close contact with the National Retail Merchants' Association. Mr. Cox reported his attendance at the national convention held in San Francisco last June. At that time the meeting of the 10th district was held, at which O. M. Prentice, Victoria, was elected a director.

The outbreak of war presented new problems for the association, he said. "It was recognized that we could do much to stabilize credit conditions during the crisis and with this in view our directors met and formed a policy which received favorable mention by the Associated Credit Bureaus of Canada. He believed the actions of the association at that time had done much to improve retail credit conditions in Canada.

Reports were given by the following committee chairmen: Victor Gill, finance and publicity; Walter Fletcher, credit bureau; R. M. Lochhead, program; O. M. Prentice, study group; Harry Dawson, manager of the bureau office.

These reports showed the association's membership stood at 215; that 15,000 credit applications were cleared through the bureau during the year; the financial condition of the organization was in good shape, and that 26 meetings were held during 1939.

Mr. Cox authorized the new directorate to name a delegation to attend the Retail Credit Conference in Vancouver May 13, 14 and 15. Delegates from the north-west, Alberta, British Columbia and Alaska will attend.

KIWANIS CELEBRATE
20TH ANNIVERSARY

Past-presidents of the Victoria Kiwanis Club were honored at the regular luncheon meeting of the organization held in the Empress Hotel today, when members celebrated the 20th anniversary of Victoria Kiwanis.

The program was in charge of H. Diggon, who gave a brief outline of the highlights of the history of the club. Each past-president who attended today's meeting also gave a short talk on accomplishments of the club during his term of office.

Past-presidents who attended the luncheon meeting were: W. Luney, A. Curtis, H. Diggon, W. Walker, J. Clearhouse, H. Stevens, E. Watkins, K. Ferguson and Dr. S. J. Willis.

Magistrate H. Hall, a charter member, gave a short talk on the work done by the club in the past 20 years. Magistrate Hall is one of the original Kiwanis members, having attended one of the first meetings at the Empress Hotel in 1919, when the club was being organized here.

Garret Spence, president, presented the Kiwanis Cup, emblematic of interschool rugby, to Wally Williams, captain of the Victoria High School rugby team. J. Asselstine, captain of the Victoria College team, former holders of the trophy, was present at the presentation.

A. Stickley and W. Tickle reported on the sale of tickets for the annual Kiwanis show, Kiwanis Kapers of 1940, and urged the members to lend every assistance to the entertainment committee to make the show a success.

The progress made in the control of cancer since the advent of advanced surgery and radiation was emphasized by Dr. H. H. Murphy, radiologist, at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, in an interesting talk before the University Women's Club last evening. The gathering was held at the home of Dr. Olga Jardine, Despard Avenue.

Dr. Murphy pointed out that the whole problem of cancer was one of uncontrolled body growth, and until more was understood about natural, normal growth the master key to the whole cancer situation would not be in the hands of medical science.

But in spite of the lack of knowledge as to its exact cause, such advances had been made in the relief of pain and the prolonging of life that cancer today was no longer the dread disease it had been 30 years ago, he said. He touched upon the valuable contribution made to cancer control by the discovery of X-ray by Roentgen and of radium by Mme. Curie, whose work in the Radium Institute was briefly referred to.

A short business meeting preceded Dr. Murphy's talk, and the evening concluded with serving of refreshments.

Mother's Duty
To Stay Home

A mother who is in the habit of leaving her three young children at home and staying out until late hours was strongly censured by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

The court's admonition came at the conclusion of a charge against the woman's husband who was fined $10 for assaulting her.

"I have had a good deal to do with children getting into difficulties because of home conditions, one of which was the mother refusing to stay home at nights," Magistrate Hall said. "I think the mother was wrong in staying out and leaving her children at home and I can understand the resentment of the husband. I think this resentment was justified but it did not justify an assault on her."

The defence of the husband to the woman's statements that he slapped her severely across the face and banged her head against the wall was that he had to wait until nearly 3 in the morning for the wife to come home. He said he hit her in self-defence when she had made a move as if to strike him with a milk bottle and to kick him.

He said he was in the army and was forced to get extended leave after 2 a.m. to stay with the children till the mother came home on the night in question. There are three children in the family, the eldest a 14-year-old girl. She was a witness to the row between her parents and was called in court this morning.

Arena Mortgage
Is Not Wanted

The Junior Chamber of Commerce last night took steps to prevent a mortgage or lien being placed on the arena in the event sufficient funds are not secured in the forthcoming financial campaign.

Lengthy discussion took place on this matter and members finally endorsed the principal of a resolution that the trustees of the arena funds be instructed to avoid any mortgage plan and keep the money raised in trust until another campaign could be staged to reach the objective or the money raised in some other manner.

It was pointed out by Ernest Harris, chairman of the arena committee, that if a mortgage was taken out on the building there would always be a danger of it falling into private hands, and he did not want openings left for the execution of a transaction of that nature.

The recommendation that no mortgage be contemplated in connection with the building emanated from the presidents of Victoria's four service clubs, who met with members of the arena executive committee last week-end to learn what progress had been made on the venture for the purpose of reporting back to their respective organizations.

New Zealand
Speeds Recruiting

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Reuters).—M. F. Jones, New Zealand Defence Minister, announced today that only 753 more enlistments are needed to fill the quota of troops for the second contingent of the New Zealand Expeditionary Force to be sent overseas.

With the recruiting drive in full swing, the minister said the government hoped within another week to recruit sufficient men to form a third unit for overseas service.

Mr. Jones said to date 17,000 men had been passed as fit for service and that another 4,000 were awaiting medical examinations. More than 4,300 men applied for service in the air force and of these 849 have been passed as fit and as early as the end of October 643 had proceeded to Britain fully trained.

Others will be sent later to Canada under the air training scheme. In response to requests from London, men will also be trained for the Royal Navy.

Halladay Inquest
Set for Thursday

An inquest on Thomas Halladay, an elderly man whose body was found Sunday on Burnside Road, will be held Thursday morning at 10.30, at McCall's Funeral Home. Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, will preside.

The post-mortem examination was conducted yesterday, but its disclosures will not be made public until the inquest. It was understood there was a cut on the top of the man's head, but what caused it for the time being was somewhat uncertain. It was possible, according to the investigation, it may have been caused by his head striking a pole or by foul means.

McMullen Heads
Publicity Bureau

E. W. McMullen was elected president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau this morning at the first meeting of the newly elected board of directors, chosen at yesterday's annual meeting.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan was elected chairman of the finance committee. Other members of this committee will be Alderman Stanley Okell, R. H. B. Ker, Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Harold Hubbard and G. H. Stevens.

Mr. Stevens, retiring president, who held the chief executive post in the bureau for four years, the longest term served by any other president, was given a vote of thanks for his untiring efforts on behalf of the organization.

The retiring president expressed thanks to retiring directors, Alderman Burgess, Gadsden and George MacDonald, and welcomed the new directors, Alderman W. H. Davies and Wm. Clark.

ISLAND BEAUTIES
PLEASED GOVERNOR

"We feel we have lost a good friend, for he was personally interested in our work and encouraged it," said Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie, president of the Society for the Preservation of Native Plants, in speaking of His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir.

After His Excellency's first tour of Vancouver Island in the summer of 1938, he wrote personally to the society as follows:

"Never have I seen a place so filled with natural beauties as Vancouver Island. I want to appeal to you citizens to realize the value of your heritage and to preserve it. It is easy, even in a great country like this, to destroy it. The richness of flora and fauna is not inexhaustible.

"If you allow careless spoliation; if you allow your game laws to be so badly managed as to destroy the fauna, you kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. Take care you do not let the wonderful natural growth on Vancouver Island disappear through carelessness—see that you protect that growth for the future good of your island. You have a treasure house that is worth saving."

Lord Tweedsmuir told Mrs. Mackenzie Beacon Hill Park was one of the most delightful spots he had ever seen. That was on the occasion when he planted a tree in the Mayor's Grove.

Last year when His Excellency was here he visited the society's exhibition of posters on preservation of forests. They were done by schoolchildren, and Lord Tweedsmuir personally inspected them and was cheered by the children. Later his secretary wrote the society thanking the members for such an enjoyable visit.

Liquor Profit

EDMONTON (CP)—Profit of $2,676,944 was made by the Alberta Liquor Control Board in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1939, according to the annual report tabled in the provincial legislature here this afternoon by Provincial Treasurer Low. Total beer and liquor sales were $8,645,553.

New Pacific Liners

WASHINGTON (AP).—The United States Maritime Commission will open bids May 7 for construction of two 35,000-ton luxury liners to ply between San Francisco and the Orient. The commission says they will be able to be converted to aircraft carriers in an emergency.

Three Injured
In Accidents

Three persons were injured in accidents reported to city police yesterday.

Nine-year-old Betty Tyerem, 1837 Crescent Road, suffered a fractured nose when knocked down on Crescent Road late in the afternoon by a car driven by J. A. Craig, 805 Derreen Place. Dr. Lloyd W. Bassett was passing and took the injured girl to hospital.

Rev. Dr. J. R. Riddell and Mrs. Riddell, Park Mansions, were shaken and the former slightly injured when they walked into the side of a car driven by F. G. Siglee, 3510 Calumet Avenue, at Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street. Dr. Riddell was attended by Dr. D. M. Baillie at his home.

Mrs. Charles McNaughton, 1609 Hollywood Place, suffered minor injuries while driving with her husband, Dr. Charles McNaughton, in a collision at Cook Street and Hillside Avenue. A police report said Bud Green, 1268 Monrose Avenue, was the driver of the other car. Both machines were damaged.

Election Notes

Conservatives
Halt Nomination

A lull in the political campaign has developed this week out of respect for the late Lord Tweedsmuir.

The Victoria Conservative Association executive decided last night to postpone until Wednesday of next week its nominating convention. The convention was originally set for Thursday night at the Memorial Hall.

This action followed the decision of the Liberals to postpone their convention which was arranged for tomorrow night. The Liberal nomination will be made next week.

Conservatives are awaiting further word of the tour of their leader, Hon. R. J. Manion, whose visit here Saturday has been canceled.

In South Vancouver, Capt. Sidney A. Smith was chosen unanimously last night as the Liberal standard bearer.

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation chose a Vancouver school teacher, Thomas Alsby, to contest the New Westminster seat. He was elected on the first ballot over three other contestants.

Legion Members
Aid Big Drive

Donations from members of the Pro Patria and Britannia Branches of the Canadian Legion here have given fine impetus to Victoria's share of the national drive for $500,000 instituted by the Canadian Legion to provide personal service and educational work among the troops overseas.

The Pro Patria Branch has contributed $281, and the Britannia Branch $156. The allocation for Victoria is $10,000. These donations were made by members in addition to branch donations of $2,000 each. The public services branch and Naval Veterans' branch contributed $300 and $500, respectively.

First among "the boys of the old brigade" to contribute was General Sir Percy Lake, who hoped the local campaign would go "over the top."

The Canadian Legion recalls with solemn pride the fact that one of the last acts of His Excellency the Governor-General was to endorse the campaign. Lord Tweedsmuir at that time pointed out the vital importance of men serving in His Majesty's forces keeping alive their interest in civilian life, stating only those who had passed through the aftermath of war were entitled to speak on these problems.

Hall to Close for Memorial Service

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late Governor-General, Mayor Andrew McGavin today announced the City Hall would be closed at 1 tomorrow afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon, after adjourning the regular council meeting to Thursday, owing to the death of His Excellency, the mayor announced he and the aldermen had been invited to attend the memorial service in Christ Church Cathedral.

Tomorrow's office closing will not, however, affect the outside staff, which will continue its work as usual.

Obituaries

Two Charged With Car Theft
Fred Ellsworth and Frank Medler were charged in the City Police Court this morning with stealing a car, following their arrest early this morning by Constable Stanley Holmes and Harry Mercer. They were remanded until tomorrow.

Ellsworth and Medler are alleged to have stolen a car owned by George Allen, 3243 Seaton Road, from North Park and Quadra Streets.

Constable Bert Pearson told city police a car answering the description of Allen's was found stuck in the mud in Saanich and he had given its three occupants a lift to town. Ellsworth and Medler were arrested shortly after.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

20 per word per insertion.
Minimum charge, 10c.

Births, $1.00 per insertion.
Marriages, $1.50 per insertion.
Deaths, $1.50 first insertion and $1.00 succeeding insertions.
Funeral notices, in Memoriam notices and Card of Thanks, $1.50 per insertion.

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, count five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an absolute rule in the number of lines, much depending on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one insertion. Any claim for rebate on account of error or omission must be made within 30 days from the date of the error, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have replies addressed to a box at the Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10c is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your time is missing, please phone E4175 before 7 p.m., and a copy will be sent by special messenger.

BOX REPLIES AVAILABLE

Letters addressed to the following boxes are available at the Times Office on presentation of box letters. Maximum replies are obtained by subscribers who follow up replies promptly.

Letters to the Editor

AIR EXPRESS
To the Editor:—We noticed an item in your newspaper which had reference to a shipment of flowers to the Toronto Daily Star by the City Parks Superintendent, intimating that the flowers had gone forward by air mail.

We find that the public do not seem to differentiate between air mail and air express, and when publicity is given to the movement of a shipment by air express, as these flowers moved, the mode of transportation used should be given proper credit.

Trans-Canada Airlines is the agency through which express is carried on the planes.

C. E. EARLE,
Agent.

DEMOCRATIC MOVE
To the Editor:—What could be more democratic than to give to the people the opportunity to decide who shall carry on the work for the war? Drastic action? Yes, but necessary through "the hounding" of our government by these little Canadians.

Because of the world critical situation today I was glad to hear a radio broadcast by a journalist in London—British comments of an amazement, because in their eyes Canada, so far, has done in every way, more than any other member of the Commonwealth to give vital aid to Great Britain in the war, and has undertaken heavier obligations.

ALICE COLCLOUGH,
View Royal.

PARCEL POST OVERSEAS
To the Editor:—It still costs six cents more per pound to send parcels to sailors and airmen serving overseas than to soldiers, according to the regulations issued at Ottawa on January 13 last. Here is the paragraph: "As a result of negotiations entered into by the Postmaster-General with the Imperial postal authorities, an agreement has been reached whereby parcels for members of the British, Canadian and other Dominion or colonial troops serving in the United Kingdom or France may be accepted at the rate of 12c for each pound or fraction thereof. For the present, however, no parcel prepaid at this rate which weighs over 11 pounds can be sent."

It appears that, in spite of many words to the contrary, our sailors and airmen serving overseas are not considered by Ottawa to be serving in the front line or in any sort of continual danger. I suggest that every friend of our sailors and airmen should at once write to the Postmaster-General at Ottawa, as well as to the gentleman who until recently represented the friend in the House of Commons.

F. V. LONGSTAFF, Major,
Dominion Soldiers' and Sailors' Help Society.

"UPHOLDING LIBERTY"
To the Editor:—The letter under this heading, signed by A. Freeman, is opportune. I would like to correct Mr. Freeman respecting his statement that Douglas Stewart was convicted for printing the Communist manifesto in the Toronto Clarion. The charge against him was that he was manager of the Clarion, which, it was claimed, had printed an article issued by the Communist International—this, by the way, having had wide circulation in England without hindrance. Three other not apprehended have been charged with publishing and distributing the Clarion, which has since (Nov. 11 issue) been banned. About 40 other persons have come under the War Measures Act for various offences, such as distribution of leaflets and periodicals, publishing or receiving same, utterances of various kinds and import, etc.

The Canadian Labor Defence League is defending all cases, and at present is involved in the campaign to appeal the case of Douglas Stewart, who has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

HANS KROEGER,
Organizing Secretary, Canadian Labor Defence League, 880 Craigflower Road.

SAILORS' APPRECIATION
To the Editor:—The enclosed letters have been lately received by the Women's Auxiliary of Spencer's Sports and Social Club from sailors who have received donations of knitted scarfs from the auxiliary.

S. UNDERWOOD,
President, Spencer's Sports and Social Women's Auxiliary.

Dear Madam or Sirs:—I feel it my duty to write to you. Not by any written laws laid down by the navy, but from the heart of a man.

I'm thanking your organization for the splendid way in which it is trying to make our seamen more comfortable while at sea.

The scarfs were received very gratefully by the members of my crew.

THE DEVIL'S DISCIPLES
To the Editor:—Can't something be done about the fearful misuse and abuse of the word "Christian?" Looking at the misnamed Christian front, which is not Christian at all. Maybe it is a front, but it is a false one in this case, used to hide the real body and spirit which is that of the devil in hides.

One is not allowed to mislabel by a false front, canned goods, medicine, mineral water or anything in food by law—so why allow a false front in the far more important matter of religion.

In fact, it's getting so that every time I see the word Christian used in a movement I am getting suspicious, as I have found on investigation and analysis, that like the false Christian front claims, the word Christian is only used to cover up the most rotten of crooked schemes so as to lull and dupe the unsuspecting public—who seem, when told a front is Christian to make no effort to find out whether it is a false one or a true one, but swallow the mess, hook, line and sinker.

My thought is, in effect, that if we want to keep up the good name of true Christianity, and true free speech, we must be especially hard on false Christian fronts, and lying, slanderous, destructive talk under the name of free speech.

S. N. STONE.

ECONOMIC VICTORY ESSENTIAL
To the Editor:—Every one of us cannot be on the battlefield fighting for those rights and liberties which have been impaired, and I realize that victory on the battlefield is not sufficient to win this war and preserve peace thereafter. I believe that in order to save democracy we must win a victory on the economic front as well as on the battlefield.

We must convince the world that our democracy can guarantee every man, woman and child, those rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, which the totalitarian countries cannot possibly offer. It is only in that way that we can win this war and preserve peace thereafter.

Although our economic system has been somewhat depressing today, under "Share the Work Plan" it is possible for every democracy to offer definite guarantees of a steady job at a living wage, in a legitimate industry, to every wage earner, and the opportunity to do business at a reasonable profit to every business man.

I ask the responsible citizens of every democracy to rally be-

NOT FOLLOWING THROUGH
To the Editor:—The "heart-break" letters found on the body of the Russian soldier on the Finnish front and published in the Loose Bits column were O.K.—a tragedy that touches the heart, a whole novel in one column, same thrill, and lots of time left to write a short note of appreciation and criticism.

But you wind up like all Liberals and Conservatives do, pawing the dark with both hands, blind as regards any solution. Nellie McClung's articles are the same; she gets nowhere with her philosophizing. She should have learned better by this time. I looked for better things from her, born and brought up within 40 miles of South Grey, Agnes Macphail's constituency, where I was born and raised. There was a Burns in every "hoose," the Bible and the Toronto Weekly Globe.

Why do such writers tell us nothing but what everybody knows and agrees with. Why don't they go on and point the way out, away from war, away from capitalism, away from the C.C.F., federally and provincially. MRS. JANE MONTGOMERY.
1598 McRae Avenue, Saanich.

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
To the Editor:—This week's issue of the Advocate quotes the Iron Age, a New York Times dispatch quoting a Copenhagen dispatch to the effect that a sale of 4,000,000 tons of Belgian coal to France and 6,000,000 tons of iron ore to Belgium has been transacted, exchange to be completed in nine months from December 1.

It is easily established, says the dispatch, that Belgium can neither consume this quantity of ores nor supply 4,000,000 tons of coal.

Some 85 per cent of ores needed in Belgium come from national resources, and 6,000,000 tons of ore is far more than the total Belgian production of nine months.

On the other hand, Belgium suffers a lack of coal and coke. Your correspondent is not entitled to draw positive conclusions, but as both the coal and the ore will be loaded on Belgian freight cars the assumption is that most of the coal will come from Germany and the ore will go to Germany. That there is also a not unimportant other trade (machinery, tools, implements, etc.) via Belgium, between France and Germany, has been recently confirmed by Belgian sources.

"ROYAL VISIT" AT DOMINION

When King George and Queen Elizabeth set foot in the New World at Quebec they scored an initial triumph which was to be repeated from end to end of their broad Kingdom of Canada. Amid scenes of splendor never paralleled on this side the royal couple went their unostentatious way capturing all hearts.

This truly royal progress through the heart of a great democracy within the British Commonwealth of Nations is marvellously shown in the picture "Royal Visit" which is being shown at the Dominion Theatre today.

The motion picture, a marvel of technical perfection, is destined to take its place in the archives of the Empire as part of the tapestry of history.

Amid ever-changing scenes Their Majesties make their way. They are appreciative of the warmth of the welcome they receive in the shadow of the ancient citadel of Quebec, in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto all through the west to Victoria.

The quiet dignity of the King and the warmth of the Queen's smile live again for those who view the picture.

CAPITOL THEATRE
How the love of a grotesque cripple for a dazzling beauty who pitied him leads him to save her life at the cost of his own is the powerful, dramatic theme of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," now at the Capitol Theatre, with Charles Laughton in the stellar title role.

This filmization of the Victor Hugo classic comes as one of the outstanding screen events of the decade, abundant in eye-dazzling splendor and breath-taking scenes. In addition to the 100 stage and screen principals who support Laughton prominently, 3,500 players appear in the spectacle scenes.

Maureen O'Hara, a newcomer uncovered by Laughton, depicts the gypsy.

PLAZA THEATRE
"Tell Your Children," which is at the Plaza Theatre, brings in dramatic intensity a story which foretold and courageous people must either face and fight in time or see their country suffer the consequences, and it does this through the medium of a smart, fast-moving story which is happening today and every day in more cities than not.

"Tell Your Children" is neither stopped by false modesty from showing this menace to society just as it really is, nor does it sacrifice truth in the slightest degree in showing the mental and moral stupefaction which follows the use of this drug.

OAK BAY THEATRE
Alexander Korda's "The Lion Has Wings" features Merle Oberon and Ralph Richardson in its cast at the Oak Bay Theatre.

This picture, which is released through United Artists, was begun by Korda shortly after the commencement of war between Germany and England, and includes in its narrative such true and timely events as the British bombing raid on the Kiel Canal and air attacks on the coast of Britain.

ATLAS THEATRE
The Atlas Theatre's feature attraction today is "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex," Warner Bros. Technicolor production, co-starring Bette Davis and Errol Flynn. The film is the intimate chronicle of a royal romance that made history during the colorful reign of England's famous virgin queen. Based on the play by Maxwell Anderson, the screen play was written by Norman Reilly Raine and Aeneas MacKenzie.

RIO THEATRE
Spencer Tracy, twice winner of the Academy Award, turns in another masterful performance as the daring reporter-explorer in Daryl F. Zanuck's production "Stanley and Livingstone." 20th Century-Fox picture now at the Rio Theatre. Starred with him are Nancy Kelly and Richard Greene in the romantic roles, heading an outstanding cast which includes Walter Brennan, Charles Coburn, Sir Cedric Hardwicke (as Livingstone), Henry Hull and Henry Travers.

CADET THEATRE
Six of the original subchasers which met the U-boat menace off the Atlantic coast in 1918 were reconditioned and remanned to appear in scenes of "Thunder Afloat," now at the Cadet Theatre, duplicating wartime manoeuvres.

SHIPWRECKED MEN
ARRIVE ON HEIAN

Fifty-nine survivors of the liner President Quezon, wrecked on the southern coast of Japan January 27 last, arrived by the N.Y.K. motorship Heian Maru from Japan this morning en route to Vancouver and Seattle. The ship cleared from William Head quarantine station at 10:50 a.m. for Vancouver.

The group of shipwrecked mariners included American officers and seamen who were recruited in Seattle to man the President Quezon when she left the Pacific coast on her first voyage under the Philippine flag.

The vessel was formerly the President Madison, operated for many years between Seattle via Victoria to the Far East by the American Mail Line.

The Heian Maru, which arrived a week behind schedule, carried a total of 135 passengers and her cargo for Vancouver and through shipment totaled 2,350 tons, including 280 packages of silk exclusive of the Seattle silk freight.

The passenger manifest listed one first, eight tourist and 24 third class for Vancouver, and 48 first, 13 tourist and 41 third for Seattle.

Kastor Refloated

After being hard ashore at Polly's Point, in the Alberni Canal, the Greek steamship Kastor was refloated today and taken to the assembly dock at Port Alberni. The freighter was said to be shipping no water and the belief was expressed that she suffered little, if any, damage.

It was expected last night that the Pacific Salvage Company might be called upon to aid the Kastor, but the call did not materialize and the Salvage-King remained at her dock here.

Green Would Press
Australasia Airline

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canadians on the Pacific coast should press for the establishment of an airline from this country to Australia and New Zealand, Howard C. Green, Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver South until recent dissolution, said in an address here.

Urging development of a "Pacific coast attitude," Mr. Green said he was in favor of a definite agreement between Canada and the United States regarding Pacific coast defenses.

He said that an "open door" in China was of vital concern to British Columbia and added:

"A free China can give us a larger increase in trade than any other country. In 1933 she was our eighth best customer but today she is our 20th best."

Mr. Green was in favor of "closer collaboration" with Australia and New Zealand—"our best friends on this coast."

B.C. Company Buys
Small U.S. Vessel

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Steamships' Limited announced today it had purchased the Seattle, wooden cargo ship Z.R. 3 with the approval of the United States Maritime Commission.

The vessel will be overhauled and is expected to be ready for service about the end of March. She was built at Seattle about 20 years ago, originally for North Pacific trade.

Kootenay Pilot Dies

Capt. Gray came to North Idaho in the early 1890's and for years operated a freight and passenger boat between Bonners Ferry and Nelson, B.C.

Sea Monster
Puzzles Experts

HALIFAX (CP) — The ichthyology books are being thumbed assiduously here as experts try to puzzle out the identity of the Atlantic's latest what-is-it.

The ponderous mass of live blubber was found floundering about under Richard Crooks' wharf at Peggy's Cove, a tiny fishing village near here.

Fishermen fell to with axes and killed the thing. It measured 14 feet in length and weighed more than a ton. It took 23 men working with block and tackle to haul it from the water.

Veteran seamen eyed the object and believed it was some sort of a whale, but admitted they had never seen the like before.

Lester Hubley of Seabright purchased the prize for an unannounced figure and brought it to Halifax for experts at the Dominion Fisheries Experimental Station to examine it. Handicapped by the fact that the monster's snout, resembling a wild boar's, was wedged in the corner of the truck in which it was brought to Halifax, the experts were unable to examine its mouth for a positive identification.

Inspection of the carcass revealed: Two horns protruding from its head, two pig-like eyes, the lower jaw was a permanent affair and only the upper jaw was hinged, three small fins, a porpoise-like tail, one breathing pore was out of order.

Inspector R. A. MacKenzie of the experimental station, thinks it is a whale. In fact, he has it narrowed down to one of two brands of whale, but he won't give out any information until he has that peek down the throat.

MacKenzie is thinking of going down to Seabright for a further inspection of the sea denizen.

University Girl
Develops Toxoid

MONCTON, N.B. — The work of Miss Marjorie Todd in the laboratories of the University of British Columbia in developing a toxoid to immunize soldiers from infection as a result of gunshot wounds, is being followed with great interest by her uncle, C. F. Todd, materials inspector, employed by the Canadian National Railways here. Her father, David Todd, is second engineer on S.S. Prince George and has spent 15 years in the Canadian National service.

"Should my niece develop this toxoid it will not only be a God-send to soldiers but to the men of the merchant marine and to naval men," Mr. Todd said. During the last war he was in the merchant marine service under the admiralty and rose from junior to chief engineer during the period of the war. He was torpedoed in the English Channel when on a voyage from South America. He also saw service in the Dardanelles.

Both Mr. Todd and his brother, the father of Miss Marjorie Todd, are graduates of the Worthington Science School, Cumberland, England, and their father, who was born in Yorkshire, was a mechanical and mining engineer in Worthington.

"We must be chasing the Wakama," Then we saw her. But soon we saw fire coming from her, and we turned around and came back. I found out the Dorsetshire, which has planes aboard, sent one of them over the Wakama and told the German ship to surrender.

"She didn't surrender, but the crew got into lifeboats, and the boat was set afire. We saw both the Dorsetshire and Shropshire afterwards."

The Wakama broadcast an SOS yesterday afternoon. Shortly afterward two rescue ships which raced to the scene reported they found nothing afloat.

Court Exonerates
Ss. Lady Pam

VANCOUVER (CP) — Chief Justice Archer Martin in Admiralty Court today exonerated the coastal steamship Lady Pam of blame for a collision last July which resulted in sinking of the yacht Turenga.

His Lordship dismissed an action of the Turenga's owner, Frank R. Stuart, and two passengers, Clyde P. Robinson, who claimed damages totaling $15,000 after the yacht sank in English Bay.

British Cruiser
Saves Nazi Crew
After Scuttling

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Rear-Admiral Sir Henry Harwood told the Associated Press today the crew of the German freighter Wakama, after setting the 3,771-ton ship afire yesterday off the Brazilian coast, had been taken aboard a British cruiser.

Sir Henry, commander of British naval forces in the south Atlantic, said in an interview 10 officers and 36 men of the Wakama's crew had been picked up in lifeboats by one of the British patrol vessels.

Sir Henry's flagship, the cruiser Hawkins, entered port here last night. The cruisers Shropshire and Dorsetshire yesterday were in the waters off Brazil where the Wakama was intercepted and fired by her own men. The Shropshire and Dorsetshire did not come into port.

Because she was considered a menace to navigation, Sir Henry said, the burning Wakama was sunk by the British cruiser that intercepted her. He would not say which British ship delivered the finishing stroke, but made it clear it was not the Hawkins.

"I didn't see the Wakama burning," he said, "but I know she burned and sank because of a communication I received from the other cruiser."

"I understood they finished her off so she would not menace other shipping."

PLANE SPOTTED SHIP

When asked if a British scout plane had been the first to spot the richly-laden 3,771-ton freighter, Sir Henry said: "That is correct. 'But the plane did not attack; it simply gave word to give up.'"

Sir Henry, knighted after commanding the British squadron which drove the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee into Montevideo, and caused it to be scuttled, indicated the overhauling of the Wakama had been an easy matter.

He said the Hawkins did not make any move against the Wakama.

"We were in communication with the other cruiser," he said. "She located the Wakama and then asked for instructions. I said, 'You take care of her; we are going on to Rio de Janeiro.'"

Asked whether the Shropshire or the Dorsetshire could take credit for bagging the Wakama, which slipped out of Rio de Janeiro Saturday night in an effort to run the British blockade, the admiral answered:

"It was one of them. Besides the Hawkins, there was only one other British warship near the Wakama."

Her holds stowed with heavy consignments of lard, hides, cotton seed oil, mica, rock crystal and cacao, the Wakama had flashed an SOS yesterday, giving her position as 50 miles off Cabo Frio, east of Rio de Janeiro.

The Hawkins had been 34 days at sea and had nothing exciting to report other than the Wakama incident, Sir Henry said in denying reports published here the cruiser had sunk the German freighter Wolfsburg.

The Wolfsburg sailed from Recife, February 3, and no other word about her gamble with the British blockade has been heard.

La Coruna, the last German freighter to sail from Rio de Janeiro before the Wakama, "apparently" escaped the British cruiser awaiting her offshore, Sir Henry said.

He added the vessel, now nine days at sea, might still be intercepted.

SAILORS' STORY

Sailors of the Hawkins said in port last night Wakama was set afire by her own crew when three British warships overhauled her.

One told this story:

"We were proceeding toward Rio, expecting to arrive at 8 a.m. Monday, when I suddenly realized we were going rapidly in the opposite direction."

"One of the officers told me 'We must be chasing the Wakama.' Then we saw her. But soon we saw fire coming from her, and we turned around and came back. I found out the Dorsetshire, which has planes aboard, sent one of them over the Wakama and told the German ship to surrender."

"She didn't surrender, but the crew got into lifeboats, and the boat was set afire. We saw both the Dorsetshire and Shropshire afterwards."

The Wakama broadcast an SOS yesterday afternoon. Shortly afterward two rescue ships which raced to the scene reported they found nothing afloat.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP) — Wheat futures prices lost early gains on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, and at the close were down 1/4 to 1/2 cent. A substantial increase in the Australian wheat estimate and an easier trend at Chicago contributed to the reaction.

The May future closed at 85 1/2, July 86 1/2 and October 88.

Intermarket spreading, involving purchases of Winnipeg wheat against sales at Chicago, boosted the market nearly a cent in the opening minutes. A moderate export business and continued absence of selling orders supplied a steady undertone.

United Kingdom and European neutrals made export purchases of Canadian wheat estimated at 200,000 bushels for shipment from the eastern seaboard.

Cash grain transactions were fairly active. The price range was steady and mostly unchanged.
